January/February Travel
January 4-9: Drs. Loren Buck, Kathleen Hunt, and Cory Williams travel to the annual Society for Integrative and Comparative Biology Symposium in New Orleans along with student researchers Uzma Tahir, Anthony Hessel, Rifat Adity, Chris Whitney, and Dan Rivera.
January 7-9: Dr. Frank von Hippel travels to Tucson for a meeting with the University of Arizona’s analytical chemistry core lab.
January 23-25: Dr. Kísa Nishikawa travels to Calgary for graduate student examinations.
January 26-29: Dr. Cory Williams travels to Portland, OR for the Toolik All Scientists Meeting.
February 9-11: Dr. Kísa Nishikawa travels to Seattle for collaborative research.

February 17-March 7: Dr. Loren Buck travels to Brazil for research.

Presentations
Entraining to the Polar Day: Circadian Rhythms in Arctic Ground Squirrels WILLIAMS, CT*; BARNES, BM; YAN, L; BUCK, CL

The influence of androgens on hibernation phenology of free-living arctic ground squirrels RICHTER, MM*; BARNES, BM; O'REILLY, KM; FENN, AM; BUCK, CL

Investigating the Gut Microbial Community of an Extreme Hibernator, the Arctic Ground Squirrel DUDDESTON, KN; BUCK, CL

Newly Funded Grants
Becker, T. NIH STTR: Application of PPODA-QT for embolization of aneurysms. $215,536

Recently Submitted Proposals
Kellar, R. NIH STTR. Biomimetic Wound Healing Devices to Close Diabetic Wounds (resubmission). $225,000

Hunt, K and Buck C.L. NPRB. Whale baleen as a physiological record: reconstructing patterns of stress in bowhead whales across multi-decadal timescales. $323,125

Connect with CBI...
http://nau.edu/cbi/
Follow @CBI_NAU on Twitter!
Follow CBI on Facebook!
Please contact Megan Coe, megan.coe@nau.edu or 928-523-0634 for more information.