POLICY

Reminder: For the purposes of travel policy, all references to “event” should be taken to include the following list: meeting, colloquium, convention, symposium, seminar, assembly, gathering, convocation, course, class, workshop, lecture, forum, event, training, summit, research travel or similar activity held by any association or organization involving discussion, research, or the exchange or dissemination of information.

TRV 540-02: Meals Involving Overnight Stays

For travel involving overnight stays, the following policies shall apply: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> On the day of departure, the meal and incidental reimbursement limitation is 75% of the full date rate of the night’s destination; for days of return, the meal and incidental limitation is 75% of the full day rate for the location in which the traveler stayed the previous night. The seventy-five percent (75%) limitation on the days of departure and return applies no matter the times of departure or arrival, the length of the travel day, the number of meals purchased and consumed, or the destination or origin of the trip (including CONUS, Alaska, Hawaii and foreign countries). Reimbursements for meals on the days of departure and return are not taxable to the traveler. A traveler provided a meal on the day of departure or return at no additional cost to himself must reduce the reimbursement claimed by the amount appropriate to the meal provided. It is possible that this disqualifies the traveler from any meal reimbursement from the State. Example 1: A traveler flies from Phoenix to Chicago for a two-day—Tuesday and Wednesday--conference. He leaves for the conference on Monday and returns to Phoenix on Thursday. Assuming the then in effect Full-Day meal and incidentals reimbursement limit for Chicago is $64, on Monday, he will be entitled to be reimbursed up to 75% of Chicago’s Full-Day meal and incidental reimbursement, or $48.00 ($64.00 x .75 = $48.00). On Wednesday, he will be entitled to be reimbursed up to 100% of Chicago’s Full-Day	10/1/17 meal and incidental reimbursement or $64. On Thursday, he will be entitled to up to 75% of Chicago’s Full-Day meal and incidental reimbursement, or $48.00 ($64.00 x .75 = $48.00). These amounts would be reduced by meals he was provided by others. So, if upon arrival in Chicago, the meeting’s host bought him dinner, he would have to deduct $35.00, the Chicago dinner reimbursement limitation (assuming the then current Chicago reimbursement were $64.00 and the dinner amount $35.00), from the amount he would be allowed to claim.

5. For travel days involving overnight stays that are neither the day of departure nor the day of return a traveler may be reimbursed up to the Full-Day Meal Reimbursement Rates for the applicable date and location. The Full-Day Reimbursement Rates are limits for actual meal expenses incurred, not a fixed per diem or allowance amount.
6. A reimbursement of actual expenses up to the applicable Full-Day Reimbursement Rate may be claimed, no matter the meal or meals upon which the amounts are spent.

Example: The Full-Day Reimbursement Rate for a given location is $59. The traveler qualifies for an entire day’s reimbursement, up to $59, whether that amount was spent on three meals, two meals or on an expensive dinner. It must be borne in mind, however, that this is a reimbursement and the amount or amounts claimed must actually have been spent for meals by the traveler.

7. The Full-Day Reimbursement Rate shall be reduced for any meal provided at an event or otherwise paid for by some entity other than the traveler.

Example: A traveler attends a conference at which lunch is served without additional cost to the traveler in a location that has a Full-Day Reimbursement Rate of $59. The amount of meal reimbursement the traveler may claim is up to $44 (i.e., the $59 full-day rate minus the $15 of the full-day rate that is applicable to lunch).
