Discoveries on the Silk Road: A Century of Collaboration

Dr. Susan Whitfield, The British Library, London, UK

Date: February 26, 2015
Time: 4:30-5:30 p.m.
Location: Liberal Arts Building, Rm 120

This illustrated lecture will tell the story of the archaeologists who excavated sites on the eastern Silk Road a century ago, and the more recent collaborative efforts to make their collections freely available worldwide through the International Dunhuang Project (http://idp.bl.uk).

For more information, please contact the department of Comparative Cultural Studies at (928-523-3881)