The anthropology minor requires 18 credits, including three credits in the archaeological & biological area, three credits in the sociocultural & linguistic area, and 12 additional credits approved by your minor advisor.

Archaeological & Biological Area (Choose One—3 Credits):
- ANT 101—Humankind Emerging
- ANT 104—Lost Tribes & Buried Cities
- ANT 106—The Art of Ancient Technology
- ANT 206—Ancient North Americans
- ANT 250—Principles of Archaeology (Methods & Theory)
- ANT 253—Aztec and Maya: Archaeology of Ancient Mexico
- ANT 270—Physical Anthropology I: Human Origins
- ANT 271—Human Biological Variation
- ANT 350—Archaeology of Prehistory
- ANT 351—Southwestern Archaeology
- ANT 355—Archaeology of Rock Art
- ANT 359W—Proseminar in Archaeology (Writing Intensive)
- ANT 370—Human Ecology
- ANT 379—Biological Anthropology
- ANT 410—Human Osteology
- ANT 430—Forensic Archaeology
- ANT 460—Applied Indigenous Cultural Resource Management

Sociocultural & Linguistic Area (Choose One—3 Credits):
- ANT 102—Exploring Cultures
- ANT 103—Culture in Communication
- ANT 105—Anthropology Today
- ANT 109—Anthropology of Sports
- ANT 205—Native Peoples of North America
- ANT 209—Folklore of the World
- ANT 211—The Anthropology of Everyday Life
- ANT 301—Peoples of the World
- ANT 302—World Area Studies
- ANT 303—Peoples of Latin America
- ANT 305—Folklore of the World: Anthropological Perspectives
- ANT 306—Peoples of the Southwest
- ANT 309W—Cultural Anthropology (Writing Intensive)
- ANT 329—Language in Society
- ANT 340—Music in our Culture
- ANT 390—Cultural Simulation
- ANT 404—Women in Contemporary Cultures
- ANT 406—Contemporary United States Indians
- ANT 407C—Applying Anthropology (Capstone Course)
- ANT 409—Symbol, Myth, and Ritual: Anthropological Approaches
- ANT 414—Anthropological Life Histories
- ANT 439—American Culture
- ANT 460—Applied Indigenous Cultural Resource Management
- ANT 465—Indigenous Perspectives in Anthropology
- ANT 470—Anthropology of Health and Healing
- ANT 480—Medical Anthropology

Anthropology Electives (12 Credits):
- Courses must be chosen with minor advisor approval and may be any of the above.
- At least two courses must be upper-division.
- At least nine credits must be completed through NAU's anthropology program.

Note that some courses have prerequisites. See NAU catalog for more information.