Arizona Capitol Television

Spring 2014

WHAT YOU DO

- Work full-time at the AZ Capitol in Phoenix (2014 spring semester)
- Produce live television coverage of legislative proceedings
- Interview lawmakers and legislative staff
- Write, shoot, and edit news and feature packages that will air on Arizona Capitol Television (The legislature’s cable television channel)

WHAT YOU GET

- $4,700 to be paid in bi-weekly checks
- Upper division or graduate credit (up to 12 hours)
- A waiver of all tuition and fees
- Hands-on television production experience
- A rare opportunity to learn the legislative process from the inside
- Possible reimbursement of moving expenses (up to $500) for students living outside of Maricopa County

The Arizona State Legislature is offering several “hands-on-intensive” television internships for the 2014 spring semester. ANY qualified student, not just electronic media majors, may apply for this rewarding experience.

Electronically submit applications to your campus coordinator by 5:00 p.m., Friday, October 18, 2013
