

A large, semi-transparent blue compass rose is centered in the background. It has four cardinal directions labeled with white letters: "N" at the top, "S" at the bottom, "W" on the left, and "E" on the right. The compass rose is overlaid on a light blue sky background.

SELF-GUIDED WALKING TOUR

VISITOR PARKING

Parking garages: pull ticket upon entry and pay upon exit with credit/debit card

Pay and display: purchase permit from a kiosk for the corresponding zone

- NC North Commuter
- SC South Commuter

Pay by space/meter stalls: purchase permit from kiosk located in or near lot and park in designated stall

KEY

-  suggested route
-  point of interest
-  parking kiosk: for pay-and-display permits

Want to remember highlights from your visit? Check us out virtually!
VIRTUAL TOUR
NAU.EDU/VIRTUALTOUR

NORTH CAMPUS

---

1

Old Main, North Quad

Right here is where it all began in 1899, when the university first opened its doors in this, its original building. Today, Old Main houses a museum and gallery and presides over the North Quad, bordered by residence halls, academic departments, administrative offices, and the university's contemporary American bistro—the 1899 Bar & Grill.

2

Science and Health Building

This impressive five-story building symbolizes NAU's rise to scientific and research prominence. Students interested in medicine, dentistry, research, or science education are likely to take some of their first steps here toward a professional career. The spacious facility hosts dedicated spaces for general chemistry labs and lecture halls, offices, interactive spaces, and ultra-modern research labs.

3

Liberal Arts

Constructed in 1963, the classic Liberal Arts building was recently upgraded with modern technology—including a state-of-the-art cinema screening space. The building is home to the English and History departments, as well as University Writing Programs.

4

University Union

In the heart of campus, the University Union is a popular central gathering place featuring a host of student dining options. The Union is also the headquarters for many student clubs and hangouts and houses specialized support programs for transfer students and student veterans.

5

Student Academic Services

As home to the Admissions Welcome Center, here's where to find information about joining the Lumberjack family. The building also includes more than 150 offices for faculty and staff and lab space for social science research, as well as the Lumberjack Mathematics Center, with its personalized services and support to boost student success in math.

6

NAU Bookstore

The centrally located NAU Bookstore makes it easy to get the right textbooks. It also has the largest selection of "True Blue" apparel, along with school and art supplies, room decorations, gifts, and technology.

7

Hotel and Restaurant Management

Ranked among the nation's best hospitality programs, the School of Hotel and Restaurant Management features recently renovated learning spaces, including a sophisticated demonstration kitchen and beverage lab for hands-on learning.

8

Health and Learning Center

Designed as an all-in-one facility for health and recreation, the HLC features a world-class recreation center with an indoor jogging track and 40-foot indoor climbing wall, while a full-service medical center ensures convenient access to medical services.

9

Aquatic and Tennis Complex

This stunning facility accommodates the university's swimming, diving, and tennis programs and features an Olympic-sized swimming pool, diving platforms, and six indoor and six outdoor tennis courts. You might even catch a glimpse of an international Olympic team doing a little high-altitude training.

10

Native American Cultural Center

The university's commitment to Native American students is reflected in the Native American Cultural Center, which was designed with input from leaders of 22 tribes. The building hosts several cultural events throughout the year and offers services to help students transition to and succeed at NAU.

11

School of Communication

The state-of-the-art School of Communication features a student radio station, weekly newspaper, graphic design lab, broadcast newsroom, photography studio, and a virtual reality lab. The sweeping glass entrance is flanked by First Amendment Plaza, a favorite spot for bringing classes out into the fresh air.

12

Eastburn Education

The College of Education is a testament to the university's roots as a teachers' college. The tradition of educational excellence continues to thrive through vibrant learning environments and experienced, research-based educators.

13

Cline Library

Students prepping for exams or finishing papers will find everything they need at Cline Library, including quiet study rooms, research assistance, and free computer access. The 400-seat Assembly Hall hosts films and guest speakers, while the Scholars' Corner Café helps fuel those late-night study sessions.

NORTH CAMPUS (cont.)

14

Performing and Fine Arts

Ardrey Memorial Auditorium is the largest performance venue of its kind in northern Arizona. It's the cornerstone to the university's Performing and Fine Arts Center, which serves as a hub for arts education at NAU.

15

Honors College Living and Learning Community

The new 200,000-square-foot Honors College and residence hall is a dynamic living and learning environment that brings together high-achieving students from various backgrounds who are eager to learn and grow, both personally and professionally. Located in the heart of campus, the facility features student housing, a writing center, state-of-the-art classrooms, and an exercise room.

16

Applied Research and Development

The ARD building is ranked one of the "greenest" buildings in the world. It showcases the latest in high-performance construction technology, energy efficiency, and use of renewable energy resources. The facility houses several environmental-based organizations, while the top floor is home to a world-class research center that studies the spread of infectious diseases.

SOUTH CAMPUS

17

International Pavilion

Built to foster global engagement on campus, this modern building features art exhibitions, gaming areas, and study zones, and encourages greater understanding between cultures. It's located right next to the International House—where students who are passionate about global issues and foreign languages reside.

18

Central Pedway

This scenic pedestrian pedway and bike bridge intersects the city's urban trail system, landing on south campus at The Suites, a residential community for upper-division students. You can even get refreshed at the ground-level Starbucks or try the famous chicken wings at The Coupe.

19

du Bois South Union

Also called the DÜB, this gathering place features a dining hall and a wide variety of retail dining options—from Italian to New York-style and Latin-inspired menus—as well as conference rooms and social spaces. It's also home to the South Academic Success Center, which offers tutoring, academic mentoring, and test prep courses.

20

The W. A. Franke College of Business

The impressive business building was designed with communication and collaboration in mind. A generous donation from William A. Franke in 2007 sparked the name for NAU's business college and provides transformational support for student skill development, scholarships, and technology.

21

Social and Behavioral Sciences

The Raul H. Castro Social and Behavioral Sciences building is named for the first and only Latino governor of Arizona and an NAU graduate. Here, expert faculty guide interactive classes, discuss solutions to important world challenges, and research ways to effect change.

22

Engineering

The engineering building's visual appeal represents the cutting-edge engineering concepts taking place within. Degrees range from computer and environmental engineering to construction management.

23

Health Professions

The College of Health and Human Services is the headquarters for education in the health professions. Here, students in dental hygiene, nursing, fitness wellness, physical education, public health, and speech-language sciences gain practical and real-world experience in a variety of clinical settings.

24

Walkup Skydome

Undeniably NAU's most unusual venue, the Walkup Skydome is the second-largest wood-framed dome in the world, with a roof that spans more than 500 feet and rises 142 feet above the playing surface. The dome provides seating for about 10,000 for football, basketball, and indoor track and field competitions, as well as major concerts, commencements, and other sizable university and community events. It is named for former university president J. Lawrence Walkup.