English as a Medium of Instruction

Continuing Education Programs

As more global educational institutions are using English as the language of instruction, teachers often have questions about effective teaching.

- What are effective ways to teach complex content using the English language?
- How do I balance teaching content and language in my courses?
- How can I feel more confident teaching and communicating in English?

NAU's Program in Intensive English offers customized teacher training courses in these contexts:

Educational Contexts/Subjects

- Elementary, Secondary, University
- Humanities – English, History, Philosophy
- Science, Technology, Engineering & Math
- Business, Management, Accounting
- Social Sciences

Teaching and Classroom Management

- Effective Lecturing
- Facilitating group discussion
- Balancing language and content
- Managing one-on-one interactions
- Providing spoken & written feedback
- Scaffolding assignments for understanding
- Improving spoken and written communication
- Creating rubrics & assessing learning and language outcomes

Modes of Instruction

- Virtual – live and asynchronous
- In-Person at NAU
- In-Person at host institution

Program Lengths

- Intensive: 1-3 days
- Short-term: 1-5 weeks
- Long-term: 2-4 months

“Your class made me think about effective expression, and to be audience centered. Thank you!”
