

Campus Health Services, Campus Dining Wellness Graduate Assistantship, Nutrition Emphasis

NAU Campus Health and NAU Campus Dining are partnering together to fund a 20-hour per week graduate assistant position for the 2023-2024 academic year to coordinate nutrition & wellness education, communication, and other wellness activities for the NAU-Flagstaff campus.

Job Description:

- Help translate nutrition science into healthy lifestyle practices throughout campus.
- Assist Dietitian/Dining Managers in coordinating and conducting nutrition education programming, including cooking demos, mindful samplings and fruit and vegetable tastings in the residence halls.
- Collaborate with other NAU departments to promote wellness programming (e.g. Campus Rec, Campus Dining, Louie's Cupboard, etc.).
- Assist with the planning, organization, and implementation of National Nutrition Month and National Eating Disorder Awareness Week campaigns and programming.
- Develop social media and social marketing messages regarding healthy eating strategies for Campus Dining.
- Create and implement nutrition awareness programs and communications campaigns with Campus Dining.
- Assist Campus Dining Services with dining tours, Open Air Markets, auditing nutrition information on campus, and management of the Campus Dining Advisory Committee.
- Assist with Healthy Campus Coalition and other task forces as needed.
- Assist with Live Well NAU tasks as needed, including outreach and evaluation.
- Plan and implement student workshops on nutrition and wellness topics throughout the semester.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Accepted in a graduate program at Northern Arizona University
- Bachelor's degree in related field (i.e., Nutrition, Public Health, Health Education).
- Ability to work 20 hours per week, including some evenings and weekends

Preferred Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in Public Health, Nutrition, or other related field
- Acceptance in the Master's of Public Health Program (Health Promotion or Nutrition tracks)
- Experience creating and delivering public health/prevention programs

Preferred Skills:

- Knowledge of basic scientific nutrition principles
- Strong knowledge of public health principles and theories
- Excellent communication and presentation skills
- Ability to build and maintain positive working relationships across campus
- Experience in program planning, including marketing and promotion

- Ability to work effectively as a team member and independently
- Detail and goal oriented
- Cultural competence and experience working with diverse populations
- Adept at creative problem solving
- Willingness to develop skills in leadership and teaching
- Experience using Microsoft Office Suite and various social media platforms
- Experience in a kitchen setting and comfortable with cooking skills

Pay: $15,000 plus NAU tuition waiver and insurance benefits for the 2023-2024 academic year.

We're looking for a person with creative talents who is friendly, well organized, and highly self-motivated to join our group.

To apply, please submit a resume/CV, cover letter that specifically addresses why you would be a good candidate for this position, and a list of three references to: riley.perrin@nau.edu