

NAU HEALTH

Shaping a healthier Arizona
through education and improved health access

Fueled by the Arizona Board of Regents' (ABOR) AZ Healthy Tomorrow initiative, NAU Health builds on over 60 years of excellence educating healthcare professionals for the workforce and serving communities with healthcare data and research. With a comprehensive strategic agenda, NAU Health will increase opportunity for talented healthcare professionals across disciplines to be educated in AZ and contribute to a healthy, prosperous future for individuals and communities throughout the state.

NAU Health vision

Integrative

Blending behavioral, community, and culturally informed health practices, NAU prepares resilient, workforce-ready healthcare professionals to improve health outcomes throughout Arizona.

Student-focused

Delivering programs across Arizona and online, including accelerated options and pathway partnerships with community colleges, NAU Health provides opportunities for students to design an education to meet their needs and expedite entry into the workforce.

Community-focused

Centered on teaching excellence, NAU distinguishes itself with community embeddedness in every Arizona county.

Partnership-driven

Working alongside healthcare professionals and organizations, NAU collaborates to amplify opportunities and drive meaningful impact.

NAU HEALTH impact

College of Nursing

Building on its legacy of excellence, the College of Nursing will expand its programs, establish statewide sites, create accelerated pathways, and more to meet the demand for nurses in Arizona.

Allied Health

By expanding its suite of allied health programs and increasing access points throughout the state, NAU will double the total number of degrees awarded in fields that include physical therapy, physician assistant studies, and dental hygiene by 2030.

Behavioral Health

NAU will bolster the state's workforce in community care, school counseling, and other much-needed behavioral healthcare settings through expansion to its distinctive portfolio of programs available in this crucial health related profession.

College of Medicine

A new and innovative model for MD education focused on affordable pathways for educating Arizonans to serve in primary care settings throughout the state, where they will make invaluable contributions to community health and wellness.
