

Call for Proposals

First Annual Culturally Responsive Practice in Indigenous Early Childhood Education Conference

Northern Arizona University's College of Education, through a generous grant from the W.F. Kellogg Foundation, will sponsor their first annual "Culturally Responsive Practice in Indigenous Early Childhood Education" conference on June 18-20, 2019.

This conference invites proposals which address culturally responsive, relevant, and sustaining educational practices in early childhood (birth through age 8) educational environments.

Conference tracks related to Culturally Responsive, Relevant, and Sustaining Educational Practices in Early Childhood:

- Language Immersion
- Developmentally Effective Practices
- Parent Engagement
- The Role of Standards
- Literacy Development
- Math in the Early Years
- Science in the Early Years
- The Importance of Play

*Submission deadline: May 1

Notification of acceptance: May 15

Submit Your Proposal

- Sessions need to last for one hour
- If your proposal is accepted, all presenters must complete their registration by paying the $50 fee for presenters.
 - If your proposal is denied you will need to register at the regular conference rate.

Submit proposals at: nau.edu/coe/iecec

nau.edu/coe/iecec

Contact Information:

Denyse Herder, Program Coordinator

Email: Denyse.Herder@nau.edu

Phone: 928-523-3959