

Eugene R. Moan, Ph.D.

Professor

Professional Bio

Dr. Gene Moan is a Professor in the Educational Psychology Department where he has taught courses in counseling theories and skills, ethics, marital and family counseling, and supervision. He has been a member of the faculty since 1990 and has been at NAU since 1981 when he was originally hired as a staff psychologist with the Counseling & Testing Center on campus. He served as Associate Dean of the College from 1996-1998 and interim chair of the Educational Psychology Department from 2007-2009. He is an active member of the professional psychology community. Dr. Moan's current assignment is to serve as coordinator of the Faculty Ombuds Program.

Licenses / Certifications

- Arizona Licensed Psychologist

Areas of Teaching Interest

- Theories of Counseling
- Professional and Legal Responsibilities and Ethics
- Marital and Family Systems
- Practicum
- Internship Supervision

Areas of Research and/or Professional Interest

Dr. Moan has research and professional interests in ethics, supervision, and training of mental health professionals.

Recent Presentations

- Moan, E. (2016, April). Identifying and Meeting the Needs of Contingent Faculty. International Ombudsman Association Annual Conference, Seattle, Washington.
- Botello, S., Moan, E., Collier, A., Thomason, T., & Kerr, E. (2015, August). An exploratory comparative study of a cognitive behavioral intervention, an art intervention, and no treatment on mood, stress, and quality of life in adult women. American Psychological Association Annual Convention, Toronto, Canada.
- Donohue, K., Moan, E., Margeson, C., Kalas, K., & Farmer, S. (2015, August). Enhancing trainee self-efficacy through the study of personal adjustment variables. American Psychological Association Annual Convention, Toronto, Canada.
- Moan, E & Kalas, K. (2014, November). Passing it on: The journey of mentoring and supervision. Arizona Psychology Training Conference, ASU-West, Glendale, AZ.
- Moan, E., Merrin, L., Shrader, G., Redivo, M., Hogg, A., Schulte, D., & Way, S. (2014, October). Best practices in supervision. Tucson, AZ.

- Moan, E., Kalas, K., & Bustamante, J. (2014, July). Serving the mental health needs of Native Americans in non-reservations settings. Panel presentation at the National Rural Mental Health Association Annual Conference. Washington, DC.
- Moan, E., Merrin, L., Schulte, D. & Walsh, S. (2013, October). An interactive panel discussion of supervisory issues. Arizona Psychological Association annual conference, Carefree, AZ.
- Moan, E. (2013, May). Becoming licensed as a psychologist. A four hour training workshop for interns and residents of the Arizona Psychology Training Consortium, Flagstaff, AZ.
- Moan, E. (2012, November). Objects are closer than they appear: Staying true to yourself. Closing plenary talk at the Arizona Psychology Training Conference, Phoenix, AZ.
- Moan, E. and Kalas, K. (2012, April). The use of technology among supervisors in the Arizona Psychology Training Consortium. Poster presentation. Association of Psychology Postdoctoral and Internship Centers (APPIC) Annual Conference. Tempe, AZ.
- Moan, E, Hogg, A. & Restich, T. (2011, April). Clinical supervision. A six hour training program for psychologists providing supervision to pre- and post-doctoral trainees and masters level service providers. Arizona Psychological Association, Scottsdale, AZ.

Recent Publications

- Applequist, K.L., Umphrey, L., Moan, E, & Raabe, B. (2008). Using effective communication techniques when presenting initial information to families. Young Exception Children, 10 (1).

Professional Memberships

- American Counseling Association
- Arizona Psychological Association
- Northern Arizona Psychological Society
- International Ombudsman Association