The students of the NAU Yuma Social Work Student Association (SSWA) would like to welcome you to the new BASW program. We have all come together for a common reason and that is to make a better world for those oppressed and disenfranchised clients living along the U.S. Mexico border. The new NAU-Yuma Bachelor of Arts in Social Work (BASW) program is a unique program. It is the first and only program in the nation that is focused on US/Mexico border issues and populations. The NAU Yuma BASW students are extremely excited about our new program because we are the first in the nation to obtain this experience and education. Our program has an amazing faculty that will help you meet your full potential in the program and tackle whatever issues come your way in the community.

The Student Social Work Association (SSWA) goal is to help in the development of our professional and ethical behavior through service to our campus and local communities. We learn by providing fundraisers for our SSWA and community education on those issues relevant to our residents. The SSWA allows for our diversity while recognizing our common passion as social workers. Regardless of our differences we come together as a united team, supporting each other to make a difference for those in need. We are happy and excited that you have chosen to be part of our innovative and creative program.

NAU Yuma Social Work Program

The NAU Social Work program made a strategic move to relocate from Kingman to Yuma in the spring of 2001. This decision was based upon a needs assessment conducted by Dr. Phyllis Schiller which yielded three significant findings. Dr. Schiller found that Arizona Western College had discontinued their two-year Human Services program because local social service agencies could not hire graduates of the AWC program unless they also possessed the Social Work degree, either a BSW or a BASW. It was also noted that at this time NAU—Yuma offered a graduate degree in Human Relations; however, the use of the program to satisfy the need for social workers was very limited. It was also determined that there was an interest in social work education expressed by students attending Imperial Valley College in California. Thus, Mr. William Pederson, Assistant Professor of Social Work in the SBS Dept. of Sociology and Social Work, was relocated from Kingman to Yuma in the summer of 2001. During 2001-2002, his efforts focused on recruiting, advising potential students, and teaching social work courses that fulfilled major/minor requirements for other disciplines.

In fall 2002, the first cohort of 39 students from Imperial and Yuma County’s was admitted on a part-time basis (2 classes/semester for a three year period). From 2002-2005, interest in social work education continued to grow at NAU Yuma. Social work students from California were receiving in-state tuition to attend NAU Yuma and NAU recognized the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum as equivalent to the Arizona General Education Curriculum. However, the cohort model was not able to meet the needs of many of the interested students. In sum, potential students wanted an open enrollment and a full-time program.
In fall 2005, the second cohort was admitted to NAU Yuma. With the assistance of local part-time faculty, sufficient courses were offered so that students could attend on a full-time basis. Again, interest in social work education continued to increase with students wanting a program they could enter at the time they were ready versus waiting an additional two years.

In fall 2007, the third cohort was admitted and a strategy was developed by making some curricular adjustments that would enable NAU Yuma to offer open enrollment to meet student demand. Another group of students was admitted for Fall 08 and the cohort model was discontinued. It was at this time mountain campus social work faculty (Dr. Garrison) offered to teach an online course for NAU Yuma and traveled to NAU Yuma for two spring semesters to teach a condensed version of SW 401 Crisis Intervention. Local faculty, Dr. Ruth Whisler and Sara Sennecker, M.S.W., were still being used on an as needed adjunct basis.

In the fall of 2008, NAU Yuma was designated as NAU—Yuma Branch Campus by the Arizona Board of Regents (ABOR). Dr. Larry Gould was appointed Associate Vice President and Campus Executive Officer. Upon reviewing the enrollment growth of the Social Work Program in Yuma, Dr. Gould made a decision that a second social work faculty member was needed at the NAU Yuma. In the spring of 2010, Dr. Cordelia Holbert was hired. Dr. Holbert left NAU Yuma in the fall 2011. Mr. Ben Horberg was hired on the Yuma campus and taught from fall 2012 through fall 2013.

In the Fall of 2010, the NAU Social Work Program was visited by the CSWE for reaffirmation of accreditation. It was during the self-study that faculty realized that the NAU Yuma social work program had evolved to a very different program than that on the mountain campus. Most notably, student demographics, the 2+2 nature of the Yuma campus, and our proximity to the U.S. Mexico border required different approaches to social work education in the Lower Colorado River Region. Finally, in June 2013, Dr. Gould separated the NAU Yuma social work program from the mountain campus social work program. His vision was to offer social work education to those students committed to working with U.S. Mexico border issues and populations.
In August 2015, Dr. Ruth Whisler joined our faculty and serves as our Field Education Director. We had our first CSWE Commissioner Site Visit in October 2015 in which we were commended for our program being respected nationally, locally, and within NAU. This glowing report result in our program being granted Candidacy Status for CSWE Accreditation (http://www.cswe.org/default.aspx?id=17491) in February 2016. We will be having our next CSWE Commissioner Site Visit in the fall of 2016.

The NAU Yuma Social Work Program has achieved a number of successes. The NAU Yuma Social Work Program has produced 24 students that have had papers accepted and presented at national and international conferences. Four of these students won the multi-author paper competition at the Western Social Science Association in April 2014. We have produced two Gold Ax Recipients. Our faculty has been recognized as the NAU Yuma Teacher of the Year twice, and Educators of Influence twice. And, in the faculty’s commitment to the students and social work education, we are rising to the challenges inherent in our autonomy from the mountain campus. At this juncture, the newest chapters are under construction as we move forward to lead the nation in being the only social work program in the United States that focuses on U.S. Mexico border issues and populations. We invite you to be a part of this historical moment.
Social Work Program Personnel

Professionally experienced and academically prepared faculty members work closely with students to provide careful mentoring and a broad range of expertise in both the classroom and field settings. Social Work Program Advisory Board

Social service professionals, community leaders and program graduates from the Lower Colorado River region, as well as current NAU Yuma BASW Program students comprise the BASW Program Advisory Board. The advisory board function is to serve as a link between the community (Yuma, Imperial, and La Paz counties, Sonora and Baja California Norte, Mexico) and the social work program. The board members share community interests and needs, interpret academic requirements, and discuss current trends in social work practice along the U.S. Mexico border. The advisory board is a vital resource in the evaluation of the curriculum as the board reviews program components and provides feedback on an ongoing basis. Additional social work advisory board functions include:

- Social Work Curriculum and Program Development
- Social Work Program Evaluation
- Program and Community Linkage
- Social Work Network Development
WHY WE DO IT
The Bachelor of Arts in Social Work major is a professional degree. The profession of Social Work is dedicated to promoting human and community well-being. Guided by a person and environment construct, a global perspective, respect for human diversity, and knowledge based on scientific inquiry, social work’s purpose is actualized through its quest for social and economic justice, the prevention of conditions that limit human rights, the elimination of poverty, and the enhancement of the quality of life for all persons (Council on Social Work Education, 2008, p. 1).

SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM MISSION
The mission of the NAU Yuma BASW Program is to educate and prepare generalist social workers for service and leadership to social systems and diverse populations which includes but is not limited to Hispanics, agricultural workers and the military, as well as other disenfranchised and oppressed populations along the U.S. Mexico border.

SOCIAL WORK CAREER OPPORTUNITIES
According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics (2010), employment for social workers is expected to grow faster than the average for all occupations through 2018. Job prospects are expected to be favorable, particularly for social workers who specialize in the aging population or work in rural areas (p. 6).

Social work is characterized by its diversity in career opportunities. Social workers help people, groups, and communities enduring some of life’s most difficult challenges: poverty, discrimination, unemployment, mental and physical illness, disability, abuse, and addiction. At the same time, social workers promote human rights, social and economic justice, and human and community well-being. Information about social work career opportunities can be accessed at: http://careers.socialworkers.org/explore/default.asp.

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) for Baccalaureate Social Work Degree Programs specifies the minimum requirements of professional knowledge, values and skills for generalist social work and clarifies the uniqueness of our professional educational curriculum and process.

The NAU Yuma Bachelor of Arts in Social Work Program is in Candidacy Status for accreditation by the Council on Social Work Education. We were granted Candidacy Status from the CSWE in February 2016 and anticipate full accreditation by 2017 which will be retroactive for current BASW students (http://www.cswe.org/default.aspx?id=17491). Our program was developed and our curriculum designed to fulfill the most current Educational Policy Accreditation Standards (EPAS) provided by the CSWE. A copy of the CSWE Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) can be found in Appendix 1.

The National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics and the International Federation of Social Workers (IFSW) Ethics in Social Work, Statement of Principles guide professional conduct and provide behavioral principles for the work with client systems at different levels. Copies of the codes can be found in Appendix 2.

Integrating Themes

Our program mission and goals serve as the foundation for our program themes. Program themes are reflected in the program mission, goals, and competencies. The generalist social work for which we educate is organized around the following themes:

- Educating our students is grounded in liberal studies which provide a foundation of knowledge and skills on which the social work curriculum is built. The vertical integration of the liberal studies courses with the horizontal thematic integration of the professional curriculum provides a broad foundation for the mastery of the social work core competencies from which our curriculum has been created (Program Goal 1.0; Program Competencies 2.1, 4.1).

- Service provides students the opportunity to engage in ethical generalist social work practice at the local, regional, and global levels. Service is an integrated component of our implicit and explicit curriculum that facilitates the development of a professional social work identity, ethical social work practice, and critical thinking skills for the student that strives to enhance the social welfare of people, families, and communities along the U.S. Mexico border (Program Competency 1.1).

- Leadership is underscored throughout the implicit and explicit curriculum. Leadership is an essential skill required of the generalist social work practitioner committed to helping border populations who are experiencing overwhelming life challenges. Students engage in research informed practice and practice informed research to become critical thinking leaders who serve U.S. Mexico border populations and to advance human rights and social and economic justice along the U.S. Mexico border (Program Competencies 1.1, 1.4, 2.2, 2.5).

- U.S. Mexico Border Issues are complex, multidimensional and require that social work students become globally engaged stewards of the border. Students critically informed and versed in U.S. Mexico border issues will elevate the environmental, economic, social, political, and cultural vitality of communities along the U.S. Mexico Border by engaging in policy practice (Program Competencies 2.1, 2.5, 3.1, 3.2, 3.3).

- Diverse border populations require that students practice in a culturally responsive and competent manner. Students in our program engage and embrace diversity and difference with multi-level social systems. Students apply their knowledge of human behavior and the social environment to critically think, inform and communicate their professional practice (Program Competencies 1.3, 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5, 3.1, 3.2, 3.3).

- Generalist Social Work Practice within the contexts of the U.S. Mexico border focuses on addressing poverty, structural racism, and oppression; promoting human rights and social and economic justice; and service with vulnerable and underserved populations locally, regionally, and globally. (Program Competencies 1.2, 1.5, 1.6, 2.3, 3.2, 3.5).

HOW WE DO IT

Advising Process

Students who identify interest in social work as their major meet initially with a BA Social Work Program Director (William Pederson) who will review the BASW program with the student. Upon identifying the BASW as the major of choice, students are matched with a social work academic advisor. Students are expected to maintain regular contact with their advisor, and during early enrollment periods, make an appointment with their academic advisor to discuss, review, and plan their academic program for the upcoming semesters. The academic advisor will also guide seniors in completing their graduation papers, provide information about employment and/or graduate schools, and offer recommendations, if requested, for the students.

Yuma Campus Advising Resources

Once a student attending Arizona Western College (AWC) or Imperial Valley College (IVC) identifies an interest in the social work major, the Transfer Center Directors (or appropriate academic advisors) at these community colleges works with the student to identify courses necessary to complete the NAU Liberal Studies to be eligible for the Arizona General Education Curriculum (AGEC) or Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC). The Transfer Center Director notifies Yuma Campus social work faculty and Outreach and Transition Team of the student’s plan to pursue the social work major. Yuma Campus social work faculty members assist the academic advisor and the NAU Yuma and BASW program applications process. NAU Yuma Outreach and Transition Team facilitates the prospective student’s transfer to NAU and assists registering students for their first semester of NAU Yuma Campus courses.

Once Yuma Campus social work students are enrolled in their first semester of social work courses, the social work faculty members’ functions shift to that of social work mentor. Academic advising through graduation is completed by a NAU Yuma academic advisor who closely monitors and assists the student in fulfilling NAU graduation requirements as well as social work major requirements.

Policies and Procedures

Non-Discrimination Policy

Those who, for personal reasons, choose not to mention the incidents to the person(s) having such responsibility are urged to discuss the incident(s) with the Social Work Program Director, Field Education Director if the incident occurred in field placement, or the Chair of the Department of Arts and Sciences. Northern Arizona University has formal procedures for reporting and addressing non-discrimination and sexual harassment complaints. The University policy can be accessed at http://home.nau.edu/diversity/swale.asp.

- adhere to University and social work professional values, ethics, and policies;

Students are expected to demonstrate initiative and assume responsibility for their own learning. They are expected to demonstrate acceptance of social work values and ethics. Students are made aware of their academic and field requirements through this handbook and course syllabi.

Safe Working Environment/Sexual Harassment Policy

The Safe Working Environment/Sexual Harassment Policy of Northern Arizona University seeks to prevent discrimination and to promote the safety of all individuals within the university. The goal of this policy is to prevent the occurrence of discrimination on the basis of age, gender, race, color, national origin, religion, sexual orientation, disability, or veteran status and to prevent sexual harassment, sexual assault, or retaliation by anyone at the university. Northern Arizona University deplores, condemns, and will act energetically to prevent and stop sexual harassment as a special form of abuse. Any incidents of sexual harassment, as with all forms of abuse, should be brought promptly to the attention of the person responsible for the event during which the incident(s) occur. Those who, for personal reasons, choose not to mention the incidents to the persons having such responsibility are urged to discuss the incidents with the Social Work Program Coordinator or the chair of the Department of Arts and Sciences.

You may obtain a copy of this policy from the NAU—Yuma Office of the Associate Vice President/Chief Executive Officer. If you have concerns about this policy, it is important that you contact the chair of the Department of Arts and Sciences (928.317.6408), the Office of the Associate Vice President/Chief Executive Officer (928.317.6413), the Office of Student Life (928.523.5181), the academic ombudsperson (928.523.9358), or the NAU Office of Affirmative Action (928.523.3312).

Policy on Disabilities

The BASW program makes every effort to be responsive to student learning needs. Students with special needs, please discuss your needs with your instructors early in the semester.
Students who have a learning disability or physical handicap are encouraged to make arrangements for class assignments/exams so their academic performance will not suffer due to the disability or handicap. If you have questions about special provisions for students with disabilities, contact NAU Disability Resources (928.523.8773). It is the student's responsibility to register with Disability Resources. Applications for receiving services for students with disabilities should be made at least eight weeks prior to the start of a semester. If Disability Resources verifies your eligibility for special services, consult with your instructors during the first week in the semester so appropriate arrangements can be made. Concerns related to noncompliance with appropriate provisions should be directed to Disability Resources.

Course Waiver and Academic Credit for Life/Work Experience Policy

To ensure that students receive a consistent, comprehensive educational experience leading to competence as generalist social workers, the program will not grant waivers for any of the professional social work core courses, including the field placement. Course work transferred from other social work programs is evaluated on a case-by-case basis by the student’s advisor to determine if content is equivalent to that required in our program. The program director is available for consultation in decisions regarding acceptance of transfer credit for social work major requirements and has final authority if there are disagreements about transfer credit decisions. Under no circumstances will academic credit be granted for life experience or previous work experience.

Academic Performance Standards for Admission, Retention, and Graduation

Because of the responsible positions of authority that social workers hold, and the potential to do harm in those positions, academic requirements in a social work program are by necessity comprehensive. In addition to student scholastic requirements for completion of courses at certain grade levels, social work students are expected to behave in a manner that is consistent with the values, ethics, and conduct requirements of the profession of social work in their three primary roles in the program: as learners, as students in a professional program, and as future professional helpers. Comprehensive academic performance standards in the social work program include cognitive, skill, scholastic, behavioral, and professional components and are primary indicators of professional readiness for practice in the field of social work.

Additional Academic Performance Standards for the NAU Yuma BASW Program fall into the ten (10) core competencies as identified by the CSWE EPAS (2008): Professional Identity, Diversity in Practice, Human Rights and Justice, Research Based Practice, Policy Practice, Practice Contexts, The Planned Change Process, Ethical Practice, and Critical Thinking and the operant practice behaviors for each competency.

The BASW Program’s academic performance standards and examples of essential behavior for each standard are developed to ensure clarity on expectations for student behavior and achievement, and to ensure that students from our program are well-suited for the demands, roles, and responsibilities of professional social workers. Evidence of meeting academic performance standards may include, but are not limited to: reference letters from faculty, work/volunteer supervisors, and/or field instructors; feedback from faculty, field instructors, students, staff/university personnel, and/or community professionals; observation of classroom, volunteer, or field behaviors; oral and written assignments, examinations; personal statements or self-assessments; interviews with faculty or other professionals; and/or taped interview situations (audio or video).
Students who are unable to achieve or to demonstrate the essential behavior identified in this document will come before the BASW Academic Performance Review Committee, in accordance with the program policies and procedures that govern how issues of student continuation in and termination from the program are handled.

Academic Performance Review Guidelines for Retention and Termination

Social work education serves the function of assuring that competent persons enter the social work profession, and NAU–Yuma’s BASW Program is committed to ensuring that students from our program are well suited for the professional demands, roles, and responsibilities of social workers. Consequently, at times social work faculty may find it necessary to assess or reassess a student’s motivation and/or suitability for a career in social work, and thus for continuation in the program. To fulfill this obligation, the social work faculty has defined herein the policies and procedures that govern how issues of student continuation in and termination from the Bachelor of Arts in Social Work major are handled when a concern is raised about a student’s performance.

Given the nature and scope of professional social work practice, academic performance standards, as defined in the program’s Academic Performance Standards for Admission, Retention, and Graduation, are comprehensive. Students are introduced to these standards when they first interact with the program and their student file is established. When offered admission to the BASW major, they are provided with a copy of the NAU BASW Program Academic Performance Standards. Each student has the responsibility for discussing academic performance difficulties with his/her instructors, faculty field liaison, and academic advisor as appropriate to the situation.

Below is an illustrative but not exhaustive list of conditions that might result in an Academic Performance Review, based on the program’s Academic Performance Standards.

Students are seen as violating the NAU Yuma BASW Program’s Academic Performance Standards and might be subject to performance review when they:

- fail to demonstrate professional integrity in meeting the competencies of the social work program and in fulfilling all program requirements.

- perform at levels below a C in social work major courses and/or field work

- breach the standards for academic conduct, including but not limited to plagiarism, the giving or falsifying of any academic documents or materials, cheating, and the giving or receiving of unauthorized aid in tests, examinations, or other assigned school work. NAU’s policy on academic and classroom conduct is defined in the NAU student handbook found at http://home.nau.edu/studentlife/handbook.asp, and course syllabi.

- are consistently unable to meet classroom and program requirements. For example, they are involved in a high frequency of tardiness and absences in classes, absences on exam days, assignments are turned in late, required field experiences or group meetings to prepare for group projects are missed.
do not meet the grade-point requirements that have been established at different points in the program or earn a failing grade in the BASW 408 course.

Students are required to have a minimum 2.25 overall GPA and a B or better in the introduction to social work course for admission to the major and maintain a 2.25 overall GPA for retention in the major. Students are not allowed any letter grade below a “C” in the Social Work Core courses. A grade of B or better is required in BASW 321 Social Work Practice with Individuals to be eligible for enrollment in BASW 408 Field Placement. Students are expected to pass field placement (BASW 408) the first time enrolled.

♦ reject social work values as they proceed through the program or do not comply with the NASW Code of Ethics.

♦ fail to engage in ethical behavior in the community commensurate with professional practice.

♦ are found to be in serious violation of NAU Academic and Student Conduct policies, as determined by the NAU System.

♦ are convicted of a violent crime or other felony during enrollment as a social work student.

♦ are under the influence of alcohol or drugs in the classroom or field settings, which cause them to function in an impaired manner, exhibit inappropriate behavior, or demonstrate negligence or unprofessional conduct, as defined in the NASW Code of Ethics.

♦ are unable to pass a drug screen, as required by the program or the field placement agency.

♦ behave in ways that are inappropriate to the field of social work, as defined in the NASW Code of Ethics or NAU and BASW Program policies.

♦ are unable to demonstrate willingness to grow toward professionalism by responsibly and satisfactorily reconciling differences between personal and professional values/ethics in order to practice in an ethical and a professional manner, as required by the NASW Code of Ethics.

♦ interact inappropriately with faculty, staff, peers, field instructors, or in other collegial relationships.

Composition of the Committee

The Performance Review Committee will be a committee of the whole (including all full time social work faculty) with a quorum of half plus one of that group needed in order for the committee to convene as a group to address the matter at hand. The BASW Program Director will serve as chair of the committee.

Responsibility of the Committee

The Performance Review Committee will review and make decisions about academic performance standard violation allegations as presented in writing to the BASW Program Director. The committee chair shall see that all necessary information is compiled and available for committee use in deliberations.
Roles of Committee Chair and Complainant(s)

The committee chair is responsible for convening the committee, informing the student in writing (email or hard copy) that a complaint has come forward, gathering information, recording the review process, and communicating information to the student regarding committee action and decisions. The complainant is viewed as the person(s) most knowledgeable about the situation under review and is therefore responsible for presenting pertinent information on the nature of and facts about the academic performance under review.

Initiating a Performance Review

Any faculty member or field instructor who has a special concern about any aspect of a student’s performance may bring the concern before the Performance Review Committee. The concern must be forwarded in writing by the complainant to the BASW Program Director who chairs the committee. A student who has a concern about another student’s compliance with the BASW Program Academic Performance Standards may present the concern in writing to the BASW Program Director. If the BASW Program Director initiates a complaint against a student or there is another conflict of interest, another faculty member will be designated as chair of the committee.

Student Privacy and Confidentiality

All procedures relating to the performance review shall be carried out in a manner that will protect the student’s right to privacy consistent with federal and state privacy law. Members of the committee and all other persons who appear at the review meeting are expected to observe the confidential nature of the information made available to them, as well as any discussion held during the meeting. Actions and recommendations of the committee are to be confidential and shared only with those persons involved with the student in an educational capacity or University personnel on a need-to-know basis.

The faculty operates under the professional concept of a “circle of confidentiality,” which means that departmental personnel and field instructors have a right and an obligation to exchange information on students as this impacts the operation of any part of the program, the integrity of the program in meeting its goals and competencies, the performance status of a student in the program, and the safety and well-being of any NAU personnel, other students, or field agency personnel and populations served.

Procedures and Process

A review meeting will be scheduled as soon as possible following the emergence of a concern or complaint. The chair shall notify the student, the complainant, and the committee of the meeting time and place, as well as the nature of the academic performance issue(s) to be considered by the committee.

Attendance at the review meeting will be governed as follows.

1) The student whose performance will be reviewed is expected to attend the performance review meeting. However, if the student has been contacted but refuses to attend, the review will be conducted in his/her absence. Prior to the meeting date, the student is responsible for contacting the chair to confirm his/her intent to attend the meeting. The student (and silent observer if one is present) may remain in the meeting until the point at which the committee begins its deliberations.
2) The student may invite a support adult to attend, as a silent observer, the Performance Review Committee meeting. It is the student’s responsibility to notify the chair of the committee ahead of time regarding who is being invited to attend.

3) Other persons who have significant knowledge of the issue or of the student’s academic performance also may be invited by either the student or the committee chair. The chair may invite additional administrative resources from within the institution, as appropriate.

4) The chair has the authority to limit the number of people who will be attending the review.

In all cases, the program shall follow procedures insuring student due process which requires the following:

1) The student shall be advised of the time and place of the hearing.
2) The student shall be advised of the breach of regulations of which she/he is charged.
3) The student shall be advised of the following rights:
   a. The right to present his or her case.
   b. The right to be accompanied by an adult silent observer.
   c. The right to call witnesses in his or her behalf.
   d. The right to confront witnesses against him or her.
4) The student shall be advised of the method of appeal.

Meeting Agenda

1) Fact Finding
   a. Presentation of facts leading to the performance review (chair)
   b. Presentation of additional facts or clarification of facts related to investigation (student; witnesses or others called to the meeting)
   c. Summation of Facts (chair)

2) Deliberation and Recommendation — only the committee members, as well as additional administrative resources from within the institution, shall be present for this part of the meeting.

Recommendations of or actions taken by the committee shall be forwarded in writing (email or hard copy) to the student within 10 business days following the meeting of the committee. See “Possible Outcomes of Performance Review,” below, for illustrative recommendations.

The chair will keep copies of all materials prepared for the committee in advance of the meeting and generated by the committee during the meeting. A copy of the letter outlining the committee’s recommendations and actions will be placed in the student’s folder that is maintained by the BASW Program.

The student may put in writing his or her opinions about or reactions to the review process and/or the committee’s recommendations/actions. This written response should be sent to the chair of the committee, who will place a copy in the student’s folder.

Possible Outcomes of Performance Review

The following are some possible outcomes of a performance review, applied as appropriate to the severity of the offense. This list is to be seen as illustrative rather than exhaustive.

- Mutually agreed upon counseling
- Mandatory participation in, and satisfactory completion of, an alcohol or drug rehabilitation program
- Mandated sobriety while completing all degree requirements and possible drug/alcohol testing while in the program
- Authorization to release all information and records related to treatment, including test results of blood/urine samples for alcohol and drugs
- Responsibility for payment of any required alcohol and drug screens
- A written performance plan
- Required human service activity
- Extra coursework or educational experiences
- A program probationary period during which specified criteria must be met
- Referral to a university disciplinary committee
- Suspension or expulsion from the social work major

Appeal

The student has the right to appeal the committee’s decision. Since an Academic Performance Review is not a student disciplinary hearing, the level of appeal shall be to the Chair, Department of Arts and Sciences and then to the NAU Yuma Branch Campus Associate Vice President/Chief Executive Officer, NAU.

Fingerprint Policy

Many social service agencies require that students have obtained a fingerprint card in order to engage in work at that agency. According to Arizona State Law, a fingerprint clearance card is required to work and care for children, the elderly, and vulnerable adults. All Department of Economic Security (DES) employees are required to obtain a fingerprint card. Fingerprint clearance is also required at the time of application for AZ Social Work Licensure. Students planning on completing a field practicum in an Arizona agency must obtain an Arizona Fingerprint Clearance Card upon admission to the BASW program.

Students completing a field practicum experience in California will complete a Life Scan check upon acceptance by a field practicum site. This can take up to six (6) weeks before clearance is obtained by the agency. Please coordinate with your field instructor well in advance to not disrupt the commencement of your field placement. Fingerprint clearance is not required for students completing service learning or field practicum experiences in Mexico. Out of state students (excluding California) completing field practicum in their state of residences are required to adhere to the fingerprint policy of their respective state(s).

Felony/Misdemeanor Convictions

Students who have previous convictions for misdemeanors or felonies may find it difficult to obtain a field placement and/or future employment or licensure in social work depending on the conviction and their state of residence. It is not the intent of the BASW Program to automatically exclude persons who have been convicted of a crime. We strongly believe that people can turn their lives about and become valuable members of the profession. However, past criminal convictions may limit the types and kinds of placements available to the student.

Students should be prepared to disclose to potential field placement sites any criminal background that may appear through fingerprint or background checks. Students should be prepared to discuss their background in the context of how they have grown and changed. Students are encouraged to discuss these matters with the Field Education Director and/or faculty mentor prior to placement so that they may be referred to agencies more likely to accept them, and may receive guidance in discussing their backgrounds with potential internship sites.

Procedures:
Upon being offered admission to the BASW Program, students will be advised of the fingerprint requirement, and the program will provide an Arizona Fingerprint Clearance application form. All fees associated with obtaining the fingerprint clearance card are the responsibility of the student. When completing the application, it is important to note that you must check a box indicating a “why you are applying for a fingerprint clearance card”. According to the Department of Public Safety (DPS) you may choose a box that best fits the area of practice in which you will likely seek work or volunteer experience. The employer information should be left blank, unless you are also concurrently applying for work with an employer listed on the application. In that case your fees may be covered by the agency.

Fingerprint Clearance Cards must be applied for within the semester of acceptance into the BASW major, and obtained prior to applying for Social Work Field Practicum (BASW 408). A copy of the Fingerprint Clearance Card, front and back must be submitted with your Application for Field Placement. Please be further advised that depending upon your practicum setting, there may be additional requirements such as immunizations, background checks, polygraphs, and drug testing.

Out of state students are required to obtain an Arizona fingerprint clearance card at their expense FOR COMPLETING service learning assignments INCLUDING field placement in the State of Arizona. If the student plans to complete field placement or service learning assignments in a state other than Arizona, the student is expected to know the fingerprint requirements in that state and comply accordingly

Program Policy Exception Procedures

The NAU—Yuma BASW Program recognizes there may be exceptional circumstances that impact a student’s ability to meet a program policy. This policy outlines the process and procedures to be used by a student requesting an exception to a BASW Program policy.

Initiating a Policy Exception Review

Any student who has a special circumstance that prevents compliance with a BASW Program Policy may bring the exception before the Policy Committee. The student submits an electronic statement with supporting documentation to the BASW Program Director. Supporting documentation that is not electronic will be submitted to the Department of Sociology and Arts and Sciences office for distribution to the BASW Program Director.

The statement must clearly identify the policy being appealed and why the appeal is being filed. Supporting documentation includes statements by relevant parties in support of the appeal and/or documents that verify circumstances cited in the appeal as reasons for the waiver.

Responsibility of the Committee

The Policy Committee will be concerned with consideration of the circumstances for the exception and responsible for determination of the status of the request. The committee chair shall see that all necessary information is compiled and available for committee use in deliberations.

Composition of the Committee

The BASW Program Policy Committee will be a committee of the whole (including all full time social work faculty and student representatives) with a quorum of half plus one of the group needed in order for the committee to convene as a group to address the matter at hand. The BASW Program Director will serve as chair of the committee.

Roles of Committee Chair

The committee chair is responsible for convening the committee, collecting information, recording the review process, and communicating information to the student regarding committee action and decisions.

Student Privacy and Confidentiality

All procedures relating to the exception review shall be carried out in a manner that will protect the student’s right to privacy consistent with federal and state privacy law. Members of the committee and all other persons who appear at the review meeting are expected to observe the confidential nature of the information made available to them, as well as any discussion held during the meeting. Actions and recommendations of the committee are to be confidential and shared only with those persons involved with the student in an educational capacity or University personnel on a need-to-know basis.

Procedures and Process

Policy exception statements and documentation are due September 30 for the October and February 28 for the March review meetings.

Actions taken by the committee shall be forwarded in writing (email or hard copy) to the student within 10 business days following the meeting of the committee. The Committee evaluates each appeal based upon the written record provided. Personal appearances are not permitted. The chair will keep copies of all materials prepared for the committee in advance of the meeting and generated by the committee during the meeting. A copy of the letter outlining the committee’s recommendations and actions will be placed in the student’s folder that is maintained in the Sociology and Social Work Department.

The student may put in writing his or her opinions about or reactions to the review process and/or the committee’s recommendations/actions. This written response should be sent to the chair of the committee, who will place a copy in the student’s folder.

Appeal

The student has the right to appeal the committee’s decision. Since a Policy Review is not a student disciplinary hearing, the level of appeal shall be to the Chair, Department of Arts and Sciences and then to the NAU Yuma Branch Campus Associate Vice Pres. /Chief Executive Officer.

Student Grievance/Appeal Policy and Procedures

While the university and BASW program strives to maintain a congenial and responsive atmosphere for its students conducive with the educational purposes of the university, they recognize that from time to time misunderstandings and disagreements may arise during the course of a student’s enrollment. On occasion, social work students may disagree with faculty decisions about credit received for assignments, grades given, decisions regarding their acceptance or rejection to the program, or other program policies and procedures. The following procedures are a guide for resolving such disagreements. Students are encouraged to discuss their complaint with their social work instructor or advisor before taking formal action, especially if the disagreement is about admission or retention. The advisor may choose to become an advocate for the student. Issues related to the social work program are specified below. Issues that are extra-social work program related are discussed in the NAU Student Handbook.

A. GRIEVANCE INVOLVING ONE INSTRUCTOR

STEP I. Students first attempt to resolve the issue informally through discussion with the instructor. They should be prepared to present copies of their assignments, tests, and other course materials with the grades or credit they received for them. Students also should keep a record of the dates and content of email communications and meeting(s) with the instructor.

STEP II. If the issue remains unsettled, students may appeal within five class days to the program director or his/her designee (NOTE: if the instructor involved is the program director, the appeal may be made directly to the chair of the department). Within 10 class days of receipt of the student’s request, the program director will meet with the student(s) and the instructor involved in an attempt to resolve the differences. In the event that the issue remains unresolved, students may proceed immediately to the steps listed in Section B, below.

B. GRIEVANCE REGARDING ADMISSION OR RETENTION or CONTINUATION OF APPEALS PROCESS REGARDING ONE INSTRUCTOR

STEP I. Within five (5) class days of receipt of the decision, the grievance may be forwarded in writing to the program director or his/her designee. The written statement should indicate that the student(s) is (are) proceeding with a grievance, include an outline of the grievance itself (documenting, if applicable, past efforts to resolve it) and the resolution requested. Within ten (10) class days of receipt of this material, the program director or his/her designee will convene a meeting of the faculty not included in the grievance to review the appeal. The student(s) will be notified in writing of the date and time of the meeting and may choose to attend. The student(s) is (are) entitled to an advocate to attend as a silent observer or who may be called to provide information on behalf of the student. Since this review is an internal procedure and not a formal legal one, legal representation is not permitted. The decision of the appeals committee will be provided to the student(s) in writing within ten (10) class days of the review.

STEP II. If the student(s) believes that the faculty decision was made in an arbitrary or capricious manner, she/he (they) have a right to bring the grievance first to the department chair then to the NAU—Yuma Branch Campus Associate Vice President/Chief Executive Officer for review.
STEP III. If the student has pursued all of these channels and the issue remains unresolved, a formal appeal of the grievance can be made to the Associated Students Executive Board of Grievances as described in the NAU Student Handbook accessed through http://home.nau.edu/studentlife/handbook/appendix_e.asp.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

National Association of Social Workers (NASW)

The NASW is the social work professional organization that has as a mission to "enhance human wellbeing and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty" (NASW 2008, para 1). Join as a student and get the Social Work Journal, substantial savings on books and monographs, reduced insurance rates, and most importantly, membership in your professional organization. Membership packets are available from any social work faculty member. Student membership is $57 per year compared to $225 for regular membership and, if you join while a student, you only pay one-half of the regular member dues for two years following your graduation—a BARGAIN! Contact www.naswaz.com, see www.naswdc.org email membership@nasw.org, or call 1.800.742.4089.

NASW has created the Academy of Certified Baccalaureate Social Workers (ACBSW) credential as a mechanism for national professional recognition of BSWs. The ACBSW requires "...at least two years of post-BSW supervised social work experience in an agency or organizational setting" (ACBSW Brochure).

Social Work Student Association

The NAU Yuma Branch Campus Social Work Student Association (SWSA), more commonly known as the Social Work Club, offers students the opportunity to serve the social work program, campus and community through public service projects. Student representatives serving on the Social Work Program Advisory Board are selected through participation in the Social Work Student Association. Each year, SWSA participates in a variety of activities and projects in the community providing services with diverse vulnerable populations (including elderly, homeless, children and families, disabled, chronically mentally ill) of the community.

This is a growing service organization that has a goal to serve the campus and community while providing hands on experience and an opportunity for personal growth to its members. Students are encouraged to attend and participate in club activities.

STATE of ARIZONA CREDENTIALING

The State of Arizona licenses baccalaureate social workers through the Board of Behavioral Health Examiners. The Board of Behavioral Health Examiners, established in 1989, has the mission of protecting “the public by maintaining and enforcing certification standards for behavioral health professional in the fields of social work, counseling, marriage and family therapy, and substance abuse counseling” (State of Arizona, 1993). To be licensed by the Arizona Board of Behavioral Health Examiners, the BASW must satisfy the following requirements:

- furnish evidence satisfactory to the social work credentialing committee that the person has earned a baccalaureate degree in social work from a regionally accredited college or university in a program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE);
- pass an examination approved by the social work credentialing committee;
- complete an application for membership;
- pay the prescribed fee;
- see http://www.bbhe.state.az.us

STUDY ABROAD

Social Work majors are encouraged to explore study abroad opportunities as part of their educational experience. The Center for International Education (http://international.nau.edu/about_cie/index.html) has various study abroad information sessions throughout the semester or they have study abroad advisors available (928-523-2409) to help with the entire process of studying abroad, from application procedures, paying fees, recommending courses, helping with housing abroad, obtaining a passport, transferring the courses back to NAU, and many others! The study abroad advisors will help with the entire process, from the day a student walks into the Center for International Education office (located in Blome Hall, Room 200) to the day of return from the study abroad experience. No appointment is needed.

For social work majors, it is very important to discuss study abroad interest with a social work advisor as soon in your academic career as possible to ensure that the experience does not interfere with progression through the social work curriculum. The best timing for social work majors to study abroad is before the spring semester, Junior Year.

Social work majors wanting to complete a study abroad experience in Mexico in a border community will coordinate that experience with the BASW Program Director or the BASW Field Education Director. Please note, because the U.S. State Department has issued a travel warning to Mexico, U.S. residents attending NAU – Yuma Branch Campus are prohibited from a study abroad experience in Mexico at this time. Residents of Mexico attending NAU – Yuma Branch Campus will be allowed to complete service learning experiences and field practicums in their community of residence.
WESTERN UNDERGRADUATE EXCHANGE (WUE) PROGRAM

Our Social Work Major is identified as part of the Western Undergraduate Exchange (WUE) Program that offers reduced tuition for new students who are residents of 14 western states, and who enroll on the Flagstaff or Yuma campuses.

To qualify for the reduced WUE tuition, students must meet the NAU admission criteria and be a resident of: Alaska, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, or Wyoming. The reduced tuition for this program is 1.5 times the Arizona in-state rate. That is approximately $8,900 less than out-of-state tuition! Priority application dates for admission to the university are March 1st for fall semester and December 1st for spring semester. Residents of Imperial County, CA are eligible for a tuition waiver of the .5 tuition fees. Please see your academic advisor to ensure this waiver has been applied to your account.

SCHOLARSHIPS/FINANCIAL AID

Scholarships

NAU distributes a booklet entitled “Scholarships” each calendar year. This booklet is designed to familiarize students with many potential scholarships and other resources for financial aid. The NAU Yuma Branch Campus has a number of scholarships available to BASW students. Please contact the Program Coordinator for Financial Aid at the NAU Yuma Enrollment Services Office for a list of scholarships, application materials, and due dates.

Financial Aid

The Office of Student Financial Aid is a support service available to social work students. For a complete description of the financial aid programs, application procedures, and a copy of the Financial Aid brochure contact the Office of Student Financial Aid, Gammage Building. Social work students are encouraged to contact them as well as other resources such as tribal scholarship offices, federal loans, and private scholarships. You may discuss your specific financial aid situations with your social work advisor for more information and ideas to meet your individual situation. For example, there are specific scholarships available to single heads of households and you may be eligible to receive these special scholarships. For more information see www4.nau.edu/finaid.

APA CITATION FORMAT

NAU—Yuma Bachelor of Arts in Social Work Program requires the use of the APA citation format for all papers and assignments in which resources and references are cited. For more detailed information refer to the American Psychological Association (See http://www.apastyle.org/index.html); for examples of electronic media citations (See http://www.apastyle.org/elecref.html).

The following are a few examples of APA citation styles for your reference:

APA STYLE: TEXT BODY; DIRECT SHORT QUOTE

Achieving cultural competence is an ongoing, lifelong process for all social workers, as no one is born culturally competent. “Cultural competence does not come naturally to any social worker and requires a high level of professionalism and sophistication, yet how culturally competent practitioners are trained is not clear in professional education or practice” (Ortiz Hendricks, 2003, p. 75).

APA STYLE: TEXT BODY; DIRECT LONG QUOTE

LaFromboise (1979) contended that the social, psychological, and academic adjustment problems of Native American university students are compounded by what she defined as culture shock, especially for those Native American students who come from a reservation:

Culture shock is defined as a disoriented, helpless feeling that occurs with direct exposure to an alien society. The outstanding features of culture shock include an inability to make sense out of the behaviors of others; an inability to predict what other people will say and do; and an inability to use customary categories of experience or habitual actions, for they elicit seemingly bizarre responses (p. 4).

RESUMÉ DEVELOPMENT

Preparation of a Professional Social Work Resumé

1. OVERVIEW OF RESUMÉ WRITING

What is a resumé? A resumé is a short, concise summary of your past educational, work and professional history. It is not an autobiography. Its purpose is to get you in the employer's office for an interview. Rarely does it and it alone get you the job. With this in mind, what should be included in your resumé?

First of all, there is no one right way to write a resumé. The resumé should be tailored to meet the needs and qualifications required by the job you are seeking. In short, highlighting those experiences in your educational, work, and professional history for which the employer is looking.

2. ESSENTIAL COMPONENTS OF A RESUMÉ

   a. Personal information
      name, address, phone number, email address

   b. Education
      date graduated, degree, institution

   c. Work Experience
      paid, volunteer, and in home

   d. Community/University Service agency board or service club memberships, etc. (Be sure to identify any offices held.)

   e. Special Skills in areas where you provide leadership (second language, art, recreation, and/or speaking abilities)

   f. Honors, Scholarships, Awards

   g. Professional Memberships such as NASW, CSWE

   h. Miscellaneous
      travel, military, public presentations

   i. References
      provided upon request

For assistance with resume and career development, consult the NAU Career Services with the Gateway Student Success Center: http://www4.nau.edu/gateway/index.htm, phone: 928.523.4772, email: Gateway@nau.edu.

• FIELD EDUCATION •

PURPOSE OF FIELD EDUCATION

The purpose of field placement is to provide an educationally focused and directed practice experience that enables students to discover, develop, and enhance their competencies as generalist social workers. Field Education is the component of the Bachelor of Arts in Social Work Curriculum designed to make real the behavioral incorporation of knowledge, values, and skills resulting in the acceptance and expression of responsibility and conscious use of self in professional practice. It is through field placement that student academic learning becomes operationalized and actualized.

Field placement makes learning direct, immediate, and personal. Students’ learning about their own feelings and attitudes is encouraged, for a part of the experience involves exploration of feelings and emotions to a greater extent than is possible in the classroom. With this field placement experience, students grow in self-awareness and develop a sense of professional identity and competence.

FIELD LEARNING OUTCOMES

The learning outcomes are written within the framework of the goals outlined above and the understanding that generalist social work includes foundation knowledge, internalization of professional values, and the application of these areas into practice. For each outcome, students are expected to demonstrate behavior that reflects their mastery of this content as measured by the Field Practicum Placement Assessment Instrument at the midpoint and endpoint of placement. Individualized strategies for meeting the learning outcomes will be determined contractually between the student, the Faculty Field Liaison, and the Field Instructor at the onset of the semester of the field placement.

FIELD PLACEMENT MODELS

The Social Work Program, in recognition of varying student interests and geographical location considerations, offers two types of field placement models. Students may select either of the field placement models in consultation with their faculty mentor and the Field Education Director.

Concurrent Field Placement

Social work students selecting this model participate in an agency at the same time they are taking course work on campus. Students are in their agency settings three days a week (Monday, Wednesday, and Friday) for a minimum of 270 clock hours per semester for which they earn 6 credit hours per semester. They are in class the other two days. Typically, concurrent placements occur in the Fall and Spring semesters of the senior year.

Block Field Placement

This model is available for students who have completed all Social Work major and requisite courses and wish to enroll in field placement for an entire semester. The advantage of the block model is that it frees students from formal course work in order to participate full-time in an agency setting. This not only provides for a very intense field learning experience, but it also allows for field placements outside the immediate areas surrounding the Yuma campus.

In electing the block placement model, students commit themselves to an agency for a minimum of 40 hours per week for 14 weeks for which the students are granted 12 credits for the minimum of 540 clock hours of field placement.

Students may select either of the field placement models in consultation with their faculty mentor and the Field Education Coordinator.

RANGE OF FIELD PLACEMENTS

The cultural diversity of the Lower Colorado River region offer an exciting context for field placements and provide sites for federal, state, tribal, county, municipal, voluntary, and private placement settings. Many of our students want to be placed in agency settings along the U.S. Mexico border. The Social Work Field Education Program is committed to utilizing these agencies to provide diverse and quality experiences for our students.

A listing of approved field placement agencies is maintained by the Field Education Director. The student may select from these agencies or consult with the Field Education Director about alternative settings. One of the responsibilities of the Field Education Director is to continually develop new field sites and resources for our students.

FIELD PLACEMENT REQUIREMENTS

The Social Work Field Placement is seen as the bridge between students’ college careers and their social work professional careers. This is a period of application, experimentation, learning, unlearning and relearning before beginning professional generalist social work practice. Therefore, before a social work student can be approved for field placement, the following conditions must be met:

1. The student must have formally applied and been accepted as a Social Work Major.
2. The student must have an overall GPA of 2.25.

3. The student will have attained senior status and have completed SW 321 with a grade of B or better. In addition, for block placement, the student will have completed all required major courses.

4. The student will attend a Field Placement Application orientation and follow the procedures for applying for field placement.

5. The student must agree to adhere to the agency rules and regulations as they apply to the field placement.

6. The student will not be placed in an agency of current employment without prior approval of the Field Education Director. The following criteria are used to determine the appropriateness of a student placement with an agency in which currently employed:

   a. Field instruction is provided by a person with the BSW or MSW degree.
   b. The tasks and activities associated with the student’s field placement are clearly separated and differentiated from the tasks and activities of the student’s current employment and are documented in the Field Placement Learning Contract.
   c. The tasks and activities available to the student must meet the field placement requirement of engagement in planned change activities with diverse populations across system levels.
   d. The agency administration agrees to the arrangement with a statement of acknowledging the role differences between employee and field placement student, and an understanding that the purpose of field placement is for student learning, development, and mastery of generalist social work competencies while engaging in tasks and activities designed to meet the Social Work Program Field Education Learning Outcomes.

7. The student will participate in the Field Seminar offered concurrently with field placement.

8. No academic credit will be given to social work students for life or work experiences.

9. Students are required to complete a minimum of 540 clock hours in a field placement setting. The student may register for as few as 6 credits or as many as 12 credits of BASW 408 in any given semester, with a total of 12 credit hours required. The approximate breakdown of agency hours to credit equivalence is as follows:

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Application Procedures for Field Placement

A. Social Work students must fulfill the following before enrolling in BASW 408 Field Placement:

1. Check with their advisor for specific requirements and assessment of preparedness for field placement. The requirements for field placement outlined above must be met.

2. Attend a Field Placement Application orientation.

3. Complete an Application for Social Work Field Placement form (see time deadlines below). The student is expected to discuss and review the completed field application with her/his academic advisor before submitting the application to the Field Education Coordinator. The Field Education Coordinator will not accept applications that have not been signed by the student's advisor.

4. Schedule an appointment to meet with the Field Education Coordinator to review the completed Application for Social Work Field Placement and discuss placement preferences prior to being matched with a recommended placement agency and Field Instructor. Students may provide the Field Education Coordinator with a list of potential field placement settings not currently identified as an approved field placement agency. All contacts with potential field placement settings will be initiated by the Field Education Coordinator.

5. The Field Education Coordinator will match student preference with the availability of approved field placement resources and notify the student and agency of the recommended match. Included in the notification of the recommended placement to the agency will be a copy of the student's resume and the student's responses to questions 1-4 on the application form.

6. Upon receiving notification of the recommended placement, the student will initiate contact with the recommended field placement agency to schedule an interview with the Field Instructor and other agency representatives as required by the agency. For the student and agency, this step is considered as similar to an employment interview. The Field Instructor or designated agency representative will notify the Field Education Coordinator of the outcome of this interview.

7. The student will receive confirmation of the agency placement by the Field Education Coordinator.

B. Time deadlines for the above procedure are as follows:

Student Applications Due
For a placement starting Spring semester September 1
For a placement starting Summer semester December 1
For a placement starting Fall semester February 1

Criteria for Selection of Field Placement Agencies

Before a field agency and agency field instructor are appointed, the BASW program shall complete an assessment of the agency and the prospective Field Instructor. The agency assessment should be conducted with the agency executive director or his/her delegated representative. The agency assessment addresses the following:

1. Compatibility of the agency’s philosophy of service with the BASW Program educational goals and competencies;

2. Evidence of adherence to social work values and ethics, and to non-discriminatory personnel and service policies;

3. Size and scope of service programs providing breadth, diversity and depth in learning opportunities; if the range of learning experiences as required by the curriculum is not available, supplemental experiences within another setting should be planned in order to fulfill the educational goals and competencies;

4. Evidence of acceptance of, respect for, and commitment to the goals and educational focus of the BASW Field Education Program by:
   a. providing a qualified field instructor with knowledge of the roles and responsibilities associated with the function; or, consenting to a qualified field instructor from outside of the agency sanctioned to carry out field instruction functions;
   b. ensuring time and workload availability on the part of the designated Field Instructor for effective supervision and professional learning, including participation in Social Work Field Education orientations, briefings and developmental experiences. It is expected that a minimum of one hour a week of formal student supervision will be provided;
   c. providing the Field Instructor with appropriate tasks, client systems and other learning opportunities for assignment to the student;
   d. granting appropriate autonomy to enable the student in accomplishing tasks;
   e. making available to the student information necessary to achieve learning objectives and carry out field placement responsibilities;
   f. engaging the student in staff and committee meetings;

5. Acceptance of students without discrimination as to ethnic origin, race, age, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, political belief, physical disability, and/or religion;

6. Providing adequate physical facilities for effective student learning - desk space, telephone access, computer and software access, office support, reimbursement for on-the-job costs consistent with staff privileges and budgetary provisions, and appropriate meeting facilities for the delivery of professional services;

7. Availability as a resource for student placements on a continuing or as needed basis.
Criteria for Selection of Field Instructors

Capacity for field instruction requires the ability to adapt social work practice knowledge, values, and skills to teaching. The prospective field instructor will submit a current résumé to the Field Education Program. The following criteria shall be used in selecting the social worker who will assume the responsibilities of a field instructor:

1. a BSW or MSW degree. If an equivalent instructor is appointed, ongoing responsible contact with a professional Social Worker must be maintained and made available to the student for the purpose of providing professional role identification and connections to social work knowledge, values and skills. Provisions for exceptions to the Social Work degree are based upon the recognition that in many underserved, reservation, Mexico, and rural areas, degreed social workers are not always available. In order to fulfill the program's purpose of serving the southwestern region of Arizona by providing social work professionals to work in the area, it is often necessary to place a student in a community or locality in which there are no degreed social workers. Our experience has been that when students are placed in distant rural communities for their field work, they are more likely to stay in the community for employment. The primary thrust of field placement is toward quality learning and competent generalist social work practice. While field instruction by qualified MSW or BSW persons is desired, practice innovations may entail opportunities in settings and localities where neither an MSW nor a BSW is available, particularly in rural areas. When this occurs, the Field Instructor is required to have a minimum of a Master's degree in a closely related field such as counseling or psychology and the Faculty Field Liaison assumes responsibility for ensuring the reinforcement of social work knowledge, values, and skills. This is accomplished through contacts by the Faculty Field Liaison with the student in addition to the routine field liaison visits with the student and agency based instructor.

2. demonstrated capacity to assume responsibility for the teaching of students as evidenced by professional competence in social work practice; identification with the profession; effectiveness in the creative use of agency function and structure;

3. motivation for field instruction as demonstrated by the desire to participate in the instruction of students in accordance with the philosophy and educational goals and competencies of the curriculum of the NAU Social Work Program;

4. ability to conceptualize, illustrate, and communicate concepts, theories, principles, and processes of generalist social work practice;

5. evidence of ability to work with a variety of students regardless of age, religion, gender, gender identity, race and ethnic background, sexual orientation, and/or physical condition;

6. time available to students and the BASW Program for the purpose of carrying out the responsibilities of field instruction which includes educational assessment and performance evaluation, planning of learning experiences and the scheduling of ongoing educational supervisory conferences;

7. participate in the BASW Field Education Program orientation and training programs to become familiar with the BASW Program and Field Placement educational outcomes and requirements and the process of teaching social work students in field placement.
Out-of-Region Placements

This policy has been developed to standardize field placements outside our campus regions and ensure that students who are placed in agencies out-of-region receive an educationally directed, coordinated and monitored field placement equivalent to in-state placements. The following criteria must be met in order for a student and agency to qualify for an out-of-region placement:

1. All placement agencies must meet the criteria for selection of field placement agencies outlined above.

2. The Field Instructor must have a MSW, a generalist social work perspective, and meet the criteria for selection of field instructors outlined above.

3. The student seeking an out-of-region placement must have an academic standing of 3.0 or above in social work major requirements and requisites.

4. There must be documentation of agreement and understanding between the agency and NAU—Yuma Branch Campus BASW Program of the resources available (time, financial, technical, personnel, etc.) for providing an educationally directed experience and monitoring the placement process.

In exceptional circumstances in which the student has demonstrated solid capacity to be self-initiating and directed, and has extensive volunteer experience in social service settings, the criteria of a minimum 3.0 GPA in major requirements may be negotiated.

Agency Criteria for Placement Students

Many field placement agencies, especially those that work with children and vulnerable populations, require employees and students to meet background and health criteria. Students may be required by the agency to be fingerprinted for the purposes of a background check, to be tested for tuberculosis, and submit to drug testing. Agencies reserve the right to not accept students who do not meet their background, health, or drug free criteria. Please refer to the Social Work Program Fingerprint policy included in this handbook (pp. 38-40). Students who anticipate concerns or challenges with this policy are encouraged, early in their social work academic career, to discuss their concerns with their advisor and the Field Education Director so arrangements for placement in a setting that does not require background or health checks.

Professional Behavior

In accordance with the Academic Performance Standards for Admission, Retention, and Graduation, the student is expected to demonstrate initiative and assume responsibility for her or his own learning and practice. In field placement, students are expected to behave in ways that reflect their accountability to their client systems, the field placement agency, and the community. The student is expected, at all times, to demonstrate acceptance of social work values and ethics, and exhibit professional behavior in interactions and activities with client systems and in meeting field placement requirements such as hours of work, keeping appointments, maintaining appropriate records, reporting on work activities, participating in meetings, dressing appropriately, and respecting privacy and observing confidentiality.
Respect of privacy and the principle of confidentiality require that no information about client systems is discussed with anyone except field placement personnel, other persons who have a professional responsibility for the information, or for whom consent is provided by the client system. Permission of the agency is required before agency material is used for class or field seminar purposes. When specific client system information is discussed in class or field seminar, names and other identifying information will be disguised. Full names are not to be used; use of an arbitrary initial or pseudonym is recommended.

Liability Insurance

All students whose field placement is necessary in order to meet degree requirements, including all social work students enrolled in BASW 408, are covered by liability insurance carried by Northern Arizona University as long as they are performing within the course and scope of their responsibilities as authorized. An agency may request the University provide proof of insurance (Certificate of Insurance). To make such a request, the agency must provide a letter specifying its insurance requirements including type and dollar amount of coverage.

Should a field placement agency be unwilling to grant students approval to practice within that agency without additional insurance, coverage is available to the student through the NASW Student Professional Liability Insurance Program for a fee. Agencies requiring additional coverage should be aware that students often are without financial resources and may need help with the costs associated with securing additional insurance.

Procedures for Termination of a Student from Field Placement

A request for the termination field placement may be initiated by the student, the Field Instructor, an agency executive, or the Faculty Field Liaison.

- At the Request of the Field Instructor, an agency executive, or the Faculty Field Liaison

In the event the request is made by the Field Instructor, Task Instructor, or the agency representative, the following steps are to be followed as a means for decision making:

1. The Field Instructor, during the course of the field placement, communicates with the student, her/his concerns as to the unsatisfactory nature of the student's performance or work.

2. The Field Instructor communicates his/her concern regarding the student to the NAU – Yuma Branch Campus Faculty Field Liaison and those persons within the agency who are involved in the placement and work activities of students, e.g. agency executive and/or Task Instructor. The Faculty Field Liaison alerts the Field Education Director (or the Social Work Program Director if the Field Education Director is the Faculty Field Liaison) of the presenting concerns. Concurrent with this step, the Faculty Field Liaison solicits feedback from the student's advisor.

3. A meeting will be held with the student, the Field Instructor, the Faculty Field Liaison, and others deemed advisable (student's advisor, Task Instructor and/or agency executive). The purpose of this meeting is to ascertain the facts and afford the opportunity for all parties involved to raise their concerns, and to explore additional options for resolution of the situation.
4. In the event the situation is not resolved the matter will be referred to the Field Education Director or the Social Work Program Director if the Field Education Director is serving in the role as Faculty Field Liaison.

5. The student, field agency, Faculty Field Liaison or Field Education Coordinator, at any point, may ask the Social Work Program Coordinator to assist in the review process.

6. Steps "b" to "f" are to be completed in a period not to exceed three weeks.

7. Replacement of the student in an alternative field agency will be determined by the nature of the concerns that led to the removal of the student from the original field placement agency and the availability of field placement options. If the concerns are related to student performance, the student may be subject to Academic Performance Review. Procedures for this process are outlined in the Social Work Program Academic Performance Review: Guidelines for Retention and Termination.

At the Request of the Student

In the event the request is made by the student, the following steps will be taken as a means for decision making:

1. The student initially discusses the situation with the Field Instructor.

2. Following the discussion with the Field Instructor with the issue not being resolved, the student consults with the Faculty Field Liaison regarding the issues involved, and the rationale for the decision to be placed elsewhere. The Field Education Director (or Social Work Program Coordinator if the Field Education Director is the Faculty Field Liaison) is alerted as to the impending situation.

3. If after such consultation the matter is not resolved, the Faculty Field Liaison convenes a meeting of the student, the Field Instructor, and others deemed advisable (student's advisor, Task Instructor and/or agency executive). The purpose of this meeting is to ascertain all the facts, to afford the opportunity for all parties involved to voice their concerns, and to serve as a basis for decision making.

4. If the concern has not been resolved to this point, the Field Education Director, in consultation with the student and Faculty Field Liaison or Social Work Program Director, will proceed with making a decision in the matter.

5. The student, Field Instructor, Faculty Field Liaison, or Field Education Director, at any point, may ask for the Social Work Program Director to assist in the review process.

6. Steps "b" to "e" are to be completed in a period not to exceed three weeks.

7. Replacement of the student in an alternative field agency will be determined by the nature of the concerns that led to the student’s request for removal from the original field placement agency and availability of field placement opportunities. If the concerns are related to student performance, the student may be subject to Academic Performance Review. Procedures for this process are outlined in the Social Work Program Academic Performance Review: Guidelines for Retention and Termination.
• Appeal:
The student has the right to appeal the decision made as a result of this process being followed. Since a Policy Review is not a student disciplinary hearing, the level of appeal shall be to the Chair, Department of Arts and Sciences and then to the NAU—Yuma Branch Campus Associate Vice President/Chief Executive Officer. If the student has pursued all of these channels and the issue remains unresolved, a formal appeal of the grievance may be made to the Associated Students Executive Board of Grievances as described in the NAU Student Handbook.

CSWE Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

Purpose: Social Work Practice, Education, and Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards

The purpose of the social work profession is to promote human and community well-being. Guided by a person and environment construct, a global perspective, respect for human diversity, and knowledge based on scientific inquiry, social work’s purpose is actualized through its quest for social and economic justice, the prevention of conditions that limit human rights, the elimination of poverty, and the enhancement of the quality of life for all persons.

Social work educators serve the profession through their teaching, scholarship, and service. Social work education—at the baccalaureate, master’s, and doctoral levels—shapes the profession’s future through the education of competent professionals, the generation of knowledge, and the exercise of leadership within the professional community.

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) uses the Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards (EPAS) to accredit baccalaureate- and master’s-level social work programs. EPAS supports academic excellence by establishing thresholds for professional competence. It permits programs to use traditional and emerging models of curriculum design by balancing requirements that promote comparability across programs with a level of flexibility that encourages programs to differentiate.

EPAS describe four features of an integrated curriculum design: (1) program mission and goals; (2) explicit curriculum; (3) implicit curriculum; and (4) assessment. The Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards are conceptually linked. Educational Policy describes each curriculum feature. Accreditation Standards (in italics) are derived from the Educational Policy and specify the requirements used to develop and maintain an accredited social work program at the baccalaureate (B) or master’s (M) level.

1. Program Mission and Goals

Educational Policy 1.0—Program Mission and Goals

The mission and goals of each social work program address the profession’s purpose, are grounded in core professional values (EP 1.1), and are informed by context (EP 1.2).
Educational Policy 1.1—Values

Service, social justice, the dignity and worth of the person, the importance of human relationships, integrity, competence, human rights, and scientific inquiry are among the core values of social work. These values underpin the explicit and implicit curriculum and frame the profession’s commitment to respect for all people and the quest for social and economic justice. These six value elements reflect the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics.

Educational Policy 1.2—Program Context

Context encompasses the mission of the institution in which the program is located and the needs and opportunities associated with the setting. Programs are further influenced by their historical, political, economic, social, cultural, demographic, and global contexts and by the ways they elect to engage these factors. Additional factors include new knowledge, technology, and ideas that may have a bearing on contemporary and future social work education and practice.

Accreditation Standard 1.0—Mission and Goals

The social work program’s mission and goals reflect the profession’s purpose and values and the program’s context.

1.0.1 The program submits its mission statement and describes how it is consistent with the profession’s purpose and values and the program’s context.

1.0.2 The program identifies its goals and demonstrates how they are derived from the program’s mission.

2. Explicit Curriculum

Educational Policy 2.0—The Social Work Curriculum and Professional Practice

The explicit curriculum constitutes the program’s formal educational structure and includes the courses and the curriculum. Social work education is grounded in the liberal arts, which provide the intellectual basis for the professional curriculum and inform its design. The explicit curriculum achieves the program’s competencies through an intentional design that includes the foundation offered at the baccalaureate and master’s levels and the advanced curriculum offered at the master’s level. The BSW curriculum prepares its graduates for generalist practice through mastery of the core competencies. The MSW curriculum prepares its graduates for advanced practice through mastery of the core competencies augmented by knowledge and practice behaviors specific to a concentration.
Educational Policy 2.1—Core Competencies

Competency-based education is an outcome performance approach to curriculum design. Competencies are measurable practice behaviors that are comprised of knowledge, values, and skills. The goal of the outcome approach is to demonstrate the integration and application of the competencies in practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The ten core competencies are listed below [EP 2.1.1–EP 2.1.10(d)], followed by a description of characteristic knowledge, values, skills, and the resulting practice behaviors that may be used to operationalize the curriculum and assessment methods. Programs may add competencies consistent with their missions and goals.

Educational Policy 2.1.1—Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly.

Social workers serve as representatives of the profession, its mission, and its core values. They know the profession’s history. Social workers commit themselves to the profession’s enhancement and to their own professional conduct and growth. Social workers

• advocate for client access to the services of social work;
• practice personal reflection and self-correction to assure continual professional development;
• attend to professional roles and boundaries;
• demonstrate professional demeanor in behavior, appearance, and communication;
• engage in career-long learning; and
• use supervision and consultation.

Educational Policy 2.1.2—Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice.

Social workers have an obligation to conduct themselves ethically and to engage in ethical decision-making. Social workers are knowledgeable about the value base of the profession, its ethical standards, and relevant law. Social workers

• recognize and manage personal values in a way that allows professional values to guide practice;
• make ethical decisions by applying standards of the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics and, as applicable, of the International Federation of Social Workers/International Association of Schools of Social Work Ethics in Social Work, Statement of Principles;
• tolerate ambiguity in resolving ethical conflicts; and
• apply strategies of ethical reasoning to arrive at principled decisions.

Educational Policy 2.1.3—Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments.

Social workers are knowledgeable about the principles of logic, scientific inquiry, and reasoned discernment. They use critical thinking augmented by creativity and curiosity. Critical thinking also requires the synthesis and communication of relevant information. Social workers

• distinguish, appraise, and integrate multiple sources of knowledge, including research-based knowledge, and practice wisdom;

• analyze models of assessment, prevention, intervention, and evaluation; and

• demonstrate effective oral and written communication in working with individuals, families, groups, organizations, communities, and colleagues.

Educational Policy 2.1.4—Engage diversity and difference in practice.

Social workers understand how diversity characterizes and shapes the human experience and is critical to the formation of identity. The dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersectionality of multiple factors including age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, political ideology, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation. Social workers appreciate that, as a consequence of difference, a person’s life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege, power, and acclaim. Social workers

• recognize the extent to which a culture’s structures and values may oppress, marginalize, alienate, or create or enhance privilege and power;

• gain sufficient self-awareness to eliminate the influence of personal biases and values in working with diverse groups;

• recognize and communicate their understanding of the importance of difference in shaping life experiences; and

• view themselves as learners and engage those with whom they work as informants.
Educational Policy 2.1.5—Advance human rights and social and economic justice.

Each person, regardless of position in society, has basic human rights, such as freedom, safety, privacy, an adequate standard of living, health care, and education. Social workers recognize the global interconnections of oppression and are knowledgeable about theories of justice and strategies to promote human and civil rights. Social work incorporates social justice practices in organizations, institutions, and society to ensure that these basic human rights are distributed equitably and without prejudice. Social workers

- understand the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination;
- advocate for human rights and social and economic justice; and
- engage in practices that advance social and economic justice.

Educational Policy 2.1.6—Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research.

Social workers use practice experience to inform research, employ evidence-based interventions, evaluate their own practice, and use research findings to improve practice, policy, and social service delivery. Social workers comprehend quantitative and qualitative research and understand scientific and ethical approaches to building knowledge. Social workers

- use practice experience to inform scientific inquiry and
- use research evidence to inform practice.

Educational Policy 2.1.7—Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment.

Social workers are knowledgeable about human behavior across the life course; the range of social systems in which people live; and the ways social systems promote or deter people in maintaining or achieving health and well-being. Social workers apply theories and knowledge from the liberal arts to understand biological, social, cultural, psychological, and spiritual development. Social workers

- utilize conceptual frameworks to guide the processes of assessment, intervention, and evaluation; and
- critique and apply knowledge to understand person and environment.

Educational Policy 2.1.8—Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services.

Social work practitioners understand that policy affects service delivery, and they actively engage in policy practice. Social workers know the history and current structures of social policies and services; the role of policy in service delivery; and the role of practice in policy development. Social workers

- analyze, formulate, and advocate for policies that advance social well-being; and
• collaborate with colleagues and clients for effective policy action.

Educational Policy 2.1.9—Respond to contexts that shape practice.

Social workers are informed, resourceful, and proactive in responding to evolving organizational, community, and societal contexts at all levels of practice. Social workers recognize that the context of practice is dynamic, and use knowledge and skill to respond proactively. Social workers

• continuously discover, appraise, and attend to changing locales, populations, scientific and technological developments, and emerging societal trends to provide relevant services; and

• provide leadership in promoting sustainable changes in service delivery and practice to improve the quality of social services.

Educational Policy 2.1.10(a)–(d)—Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.

Professional practice involves the dynamic and interactive processes of engagement, assessment, intervention, and evaluation at multiple levels. Social workers have the knowledge and skills to practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Practice knowledge includes identifying, analyzing, and implementing evidence-based interventions designed to achieve client goals; using research and technological advances; evaluating program outcomes and practice effectiveness; developing, analyzing, advocating, and providing leadership for policies and services; and promoting social and economic justice.

Educational Policy 2.1.10(a)—Engagement

Social workers

• substantively and affectively prepare for action with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities;

• use empathy and other interpersonal skills; and

• develop a mutually agreed-on focus of work and desired outcomes.

Educational Policy 2.1.10(b)—Assessment

Social workers

• collect, organize, and interpret client data;

• assess client strengths and limitations;

• develop mutually agreed-on intervention goals and objectives; and

• select appropriate intervention strategies.
Educational Policy 2.1.10(c)—Intervention Social workers

- initiate actions to achieve organizational goals;
- implement prevention interventions that enhance client capacities;
- help clients resolve problems;
- negotiate, mediate, and advocate for clients; and
- facilitate transitions and endings.

Educational Policy 2.1.10(d)—Evaluation

Social workers critically analyze, monitor, and evaluate interventions.

Educational Policy B2.2—Generalist Practice

Generalist practice is grounded in the liberal arts and the person and environment construct. To promote human and social well-being, generalist practitioners use a range of prevention and intervention methods in their practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. The generalist practitioner identifies with the social work profession and applies ethical principles and critical thinking in practice. Generalist practitioners incorporate diversity in their practice and advocate for human rights and social and economic justice. They recognize, support, and build on the strengths and resiliency of all human beings. They engage in research-informed practice and are proactive in responding to the impact of context on professional practice. BSW practice incorporates all of the core competencies.

Educational Policy 2.3—Signature Pedagogy: Field Education

Signature pedagogy represents the central form of instruction and learning in which a profession socializes its students to perform the role of practitioner. Professionals have pedagogical norms with which they connect and integrate theory and practice. In social work, the signature pedagogy is field education. The intent of field education is to connect the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practical world of the practice setting. It is a basic precept of social work education that the two interrelated components of curriculum—classroom and field—are of equal importance within the curriculum, and each contributes to the development of the requisite competencies of professional practice. Field education is systematically designed, supervised, coordinated, and evaluated based on criteria by which students demonstrate the achievement of program competencies.

Accreditation Standard B2.0—Curriculum

The 10 core competencies are used to design the professional curriculum. The program

B2.0.1 Discusses how its mission and goals are consistent with generalist practice as defined in EP B2.2.
B2.0.2 Identifies its competencies consistent with EP 2.1 through 2.1.10(d).

B2.0.3 Provides an operational definition for each of its competencies used in its curriculum design and its assessment [EP 2.1 through 2.1.10(d)].

B2.0.4 Provides a rationale for its formal curriculum design demonstrating how it is used to develop a coherent and integrated curriculum for both classroom and field (EP 2.0).

B2.0.5 Describes and explains how its curriculum content (knowledge, values, and skills) implements the operational definition of each of its competencies.

Accreditation Standard M2.0—Curriculum

The 10 core competencies are used to design the foundation and advanced curriculum. The advanced curriculum builds on and applies the core competencies in an area(s) of concentration. The program

M2.0.1 Identifies its concentration(s) (EP M2.2).

M2.0.2 Discusses how its mission and goals are consistent with advanced practice (EP M2.2).

M2.0.3 Identifies its program competencies consistent with EP 2.1 through 2.1.10(d) and EP M2.2.

M2.0.4 Provides an operational definition for each of the competencies used in its curriculum design and its assessment [EP 2.1 through 2.1.10(d); EP M2.2].

M2.0.5 Provides a rationale for its formal curriculum design (foundation and advanced), demonstrating how it is used to develop a coherent and integrated curriculum for both classroom and field (EP 2.0).

M2.0.6 Describes and explains how its curriculum content (relevant theories and conceptual frameworks, values, and skills) implements the operational definition of each of its competencies.

Accreditation Standard 2.1—Field Education

The program discusses how its field education program

2.1.1 Connects the theoretical and conceptual contribution of the classroom with the practice setting, fostering the implementation of evidence-informed practice.

B2.1.2 Provides generalist practice opportunities for students to demonstrate the core competencies.

M2.1.2 Provides advanced practice opportunities for students to demonstrate the program’s competencies.

2.1.3 Provides a minimum of 400 hours of field education for baccalaureate programs and 900 hours for master’s programs.
2.1.4 Admits only those students who have met the program’s specified criteria for field education.

2.1.5 Specifies policies, criteria, and procedures for selecting field settings; placing and monitoring students; maintaining field liaison contacts with field education settings; and evaluating student learning and field setting effectiveness congruent with the program’s competencies.

2.1.6 Specifies the credentials and practice experience of its field instructors necessary to design field learning opportunities for students to demonstrate program competencies. Field instructors for baccalaureate students hold a baccalaureate or master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program. Field instructors for master’s students hold a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program. For cases in which a field instructor does not hold a CSWE-accredited social work degree, the program assumes responsibility for reinforcing a social work perspective and describes how this is accomplished.

2.1.7 Provides orientation, field instruction training, and continuing dialog with field education settings and field instructors.

2.1.8 Develops policies regarding field placements in an organization in which the student is also employed. To ensure the role of student as learner, student assignments and field education supervision are not the same as those of the student’s employment.

3. Implicit Curriculum

Educational Policy 3.0—Implicit Curriculum: The Learning Environment

The implicit curriculum refers to the educational environment in which the explicit curriculum is presented. It is composed of the following elements: the program’s commitment to diversity; admissions policies and procedures; advisement, retention, and termination policies; student participation in governance; faculty; administrative structure; and resources. The implicit curriculum is manifested through policies that are fair and transparent in substance and implementation, the qualifications of the faculty, and the adequacy of resources. The culture of human interchange; the spirit of inquiry; the support for difference and diversity; and the values and priorities in the educational environment, including the field setting, inform the student’s learning and development. The implicit curriculum is as important as the explicit curriculum in shaping the professional character and competence of the program’s graduates. Heightened awareness of the importance of the implicit curriculum promotes an educational culture that is congruent with the values of the profession.

Educational Policy 3.1—Diversity

The program’s commitment to diversity—including age, class, color, culture, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, political ideology, race, religion, sex, and sexual orientation—is reflected in its learning environment (institutional setting; selection of field education settings and their clientele; composition of program advisory or field committees; educational and social resources; resource allocation; program leadership; speaker series, seminars, and special programs; support groups; research and other initiatives; and the demographic make-up of its faculty, staff, and student body).

Accreditation Standard 3.1—Diversity

3.1.1 The program describes the specific and continuous efforts it makes to provide a learning environment in which respect for all persons and understanding of diversity and difference are practiced.

3.1.2 The program describes how its learning environment models affirmation and respect for diversity and difference.

3.1.3 The program discusses specific plans to improve the learning environment to affirm and support persons with diverse identities.

Educational Policy 3.2—Student Development

Educational preparation and commitment to the profession are essential qualities in the admission and development of students for professional practice. To promote the social work education continuum, BSW graduates admitted to MSW programs are presented with an articulated pathway toward a concentration. Student participation in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs are important for the student’s professional development.

Accreditation Standard 3.2—Student Development: Admissions; Advisement, Retention, and Termination; and Student Participation

Admissions

B3.2.1 The program identifies the criteria it uses for admission.

M3.2.1 The program identifies the criteria it uses for admission. The criteria for admission to the master’s program must include an earned bachelor’s degree from a college or university accredited by a recognized regional accrediting association.

3.2.2 The program describes the process and procedures for evaluating applications and notifying applicants of the decision and any contingent conditions associated with admission.
M3.2.3 BSW graduates entering MSW programs are not to repeat what has been mastered in their BSW programs. MSW programs describe the policies and procedures used for awarding advanced standing. These policies and procedures should be explicit and unambiguous. Advanced standing is awarded only to graduates holding degrees from baccalaureate social work programs accredited by CSWE, those recognized through its International Social Work Degree Recognition and Evaluation Service, or covered under a memorandum of understanding with international social work accreditors.

3.2.4 The program describes its policies and procedures concerning the transfer of credits.

3.2.5 The program submits its written policy indicating that it does not grant social work course credit for life experience or previous work experience. The program documents how it informs applicants and other constituents of this policy.

Advisement, retention, and termination

3.2.6 The program describes its academic and professional advising policies and procedures. Professional advising is provided by social work program faculty, staff, or both.

3.2.7 The program spells out how it informs students of its criteria for evaluating their academic and professional performance, including policies and procedures for grievance.

3.2.8 The program submits its policies and procedures for terminating a student's enrollment in the social work program for reasons of academic and professional performance.

Student participation

3.2.9 The program describes its policies and procedures specifying students' rights and responsibilities to participate in formulating and modifying policies affecting academic and student affairs.

3.2.10 The program demonstrates how it provides opportunities and encourages students to organize in their interests.

Educational Policy 3.3—Faculty

Faculty qualifications, including experience related to the program’s competencies, and an appropriate student-faculty ratio are essential for developing an educational environment that promotes, emulates, and teaches students the knowledge, values, and skills expected of professional social workers. Through their teaching, scholarship, and service—as well as their interactions with one another, administration, students, and community—the program’s faculty models the behavior and values expected of professional social workers.

Accreditation Standard 3.3—Faculty

3.3.1 The program identifies each full and part-time social work faculty member and discusses her/his qualifications, competence, expertise in social work education and practice, and years of service to the program. Faculty who teach social work practice courses have a master's degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and at least two years of social work practice experience.
3.3.2 The program discusses how faculty size is commensurate with the number and type of curricular offerings in class and field; class size; number of students; and the faculty’s teaching, scholarly, and service responsibilities. To carry out the ongoing functions of the program, the full-time equivalent faculty-to-student ratio is usually 1:25 for baccalaureate programs and 1:12 for master’s programs.

B3.3.3 The baccalaureate social work program identifies no fewer than two full-time faculty assigned to the program, with full-time appointment in social work, and whose principal assignment is to the baccalaureate program. The majority and no fewer than two of the full-time faculty has either a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program, with a doctoral degree preferred, or a baccalaureate degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and a doctoral degree preferably in social work.

M3.3.3 The master’s social work program identifies no fewer than six full-time faculty with master’s degrees in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and whose principal assignment is to the master’s program. The majority of the full-time master’s social work program faculty has a master’s degree in social work and a doctoral degree preferably in social work.

3.3.4 The program describes its faculty workload policy and discusses how the policy supports the achievement of institutional priorities and the program’s mission and goals.

3.3.5 Faculty demonstrate ongoing professional development as teachers, scholars, and practitioners through dissemination of research and scholarship, exchanges with external constituencies such as practitioners and agencies, and through other professionally relevant creative activities that support the achievement of institutional priorities and the program’s mission and goals.

3.3.6 The program describes how its faculty models the behavior and values of the profession in the program’s educational environment.

Educational Policy 3.4—Administrative Structure

Social work faculty and administrators, based on their education, knowledge, and skills, are best suited to make decisions regarding the delivery of social work education. They exercise autonomy in designing an administrative and leadership structure, developing curriculum, and formulating and implementing policies that support the education of competent social workers.

Accreditation Standard 3.4—Administrative Structure

3.4.1 The program describes its administrative structure and shows how it provides the necessary autonomy to achieve the program’s mission and goals.

3.4.2 The program describes how the social work faculty has responsibility for defining program curriculum consistent with the Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards and the institution’s policies.

3.4.3 The program describes how the administration and faculty of the social work program participate in formulating and implementing policies related to the recruitment, hiring, retention, promotion, and tenure of program personnel.

3.4.4 The program identifies the social work program director. Institutions with accredited BSW and MSW programs appoint a separate director for each.

B3.4.4(a) The program describes the BSW program director’s leadership ability through teaching, scholarship, curriculum development, administrative experience, and other academic and professional activities in social work. The program documents that the director has a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program with a doctoral degree preferred or a baccalaureate degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and a doctoral degree, preferably in social work.

B3.4.4(b) The program provides documentation that the director has a full-time appointment to the social work program.

B3.4.4(c) The program describes the procedures for determining the program directors assigned time to provide educational and administrative leadership to the program. To carry out the administrative functions of the program, a minimum of 25% assigned time is required at the baccalaureate level. The program demonstrates this time is sufficient.

3.4.5 The program identifies the field education director.

3.4.5(a) The program describes the field director’s ability to provide leadership in the field education program through practice experience, field instruction experience, and administrative and other relevant academic and professional activities in social work.

3.4.5(b) The program documents that the field education director has a master’s degree in social work from a CSWE-accredited program and at least 2 years of post-baccalaureate or postmaster’s social work degree practice experience.

B3.4.5(c) The program describes the procedures for determining the field director’s assigned time to provide educational and administrative leadership for field education. To carry out the administrative functions of the field at least 25% assigned time is required for baccalaureate programs. The program demonstrates this time is sufficient.

Educational Policy 3.5—Resources

Adequate resources are fundamental to creating, maintaining, and improving an educational environment that supports the development of competent social work practitioners. Social work programs have the necessary resources to support learning and professionalization of students and program improvement.

Accreditation Standard 3.5—Resources

3.5.1 The program describes the procedures for budget development and administration it uses to achieve its mission and goals. The program submits the budget form to demonstrate sufficient and stable financial supports that permit program planning and faculty development.

3.5.2 The program describes how it uses resources to continuously improve the program and address challenges in the program’s context.

3.5.3 The program demonstrates sufficient support staff, other personnel, and technological resources to support itself.
3.5.4 The program submits the library form to demonstrate comprehensive library holdings and/or electronic access and other informational and educational resources necessary for achieving its mission and goals.

3.5.5 The program describes and demonstrates sufficient office and classroom space and/or computer-mediated access to achieve its mission and goals.

3.5.6 The program describes its access to assistive technology, including materials in alternative formats (e.g., Braille, large print, books on tape, assistive learning systems).

4. Assessment

Educational Policy 4.0—Assessment

Assessment is an integral component of competency-based education. To evaluate the extent to which the competencies have been met, a system of assessment is central to this model of education. Data from assessment continuously inform and promote change in the explicit and implicit curriculum to enhance attainment of program competencies.

Accreditation Standard 4.0—Assessment

4.0.1 The program presents its plan to assess the attainment of its competencies. The plan specifies procedures, multiple measures, and benchmarks to assess the attainment of each of the program’s competencies (AS B2.0.3; AS M2.0.4).

4.0.2 The program provides evidence of ongoing data collection and analysis and discusses how it uses assessment data to affirm and/or make changes in the explicit and implicit curriculum to enhance student performance.

4.0.3 The program identifies any changes in the explicit and implicit curriculum based on the analysis of the assessment data.

4.0.4 The program describes how it makes its constituencies aware of its assessment outcomes.

4.0.5 The program appends the summary data for each measure used to assess the attainment of each competency for at least one academic year prior to the submission of the self-study.

Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers

http://www.naswdc.org

Code of Ethics of the National Association of Social Workers

Approved by the 1996 NASW Delegate Assembly and revised by the 1999 NASW Delegate Assembly

Preamble

The primary mission of the social work profession is to enhance human well-being and help meet the basic human needs of all people, with particular attention to the needs and empowerment of people who are vulnerable, oppressed, and living in poverty. A historic and defining feature of social work is the profession's focus on individual well-being in a social context and the well-being of society. Fundamental to social work is attention to the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living. Social workers promote social justice and social change with and on behalf of clients. "Clients" is used inclusively to refer to individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities. Social workers are sensitive to cultural and ethnic diversity and strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice. These activities may be in the form of direct practice, community organizing, supervision, consultation, administration, advocacy, social and political action, policy development and implementation, education, and research and evaluation. Social workers seek to enhance the capacity of people to address their own needs. Social workers also seek to promote the responsiveness of organizations, communities, and other social institutions to individuals' needs and social problems.

The mission of the social work profession is rooted in a set of core values. These core values, embraced by social workers throughout the profession's history, are the foundation of social work's unique purpose and perspective:

- service
- social justice
- dignity and worth of the person
- importance of human relationships
- integrity
- competence.

This constellation of core values reflects what is unique to the social work profession. Core values, and the principles that flow from them, must be balanced within the context and complexity of the human experience.

Purpose of the NASW Code of Ethics

Professional ethics are at the core of social work. The profession has an obligation to articulate its basic values, ethical principles, and ethical standards. The NASW Code of Ethics sets forth these values, principles, and standards to guide social workers' conduct. The Code is relevant to all social workers and social work students, regardless of their professional functions, the settings in which they work, or the populations they serve.

The NASW Code of Ethics serves six purposes:

1. The Code identifies core values on which social work's mission is based.
2. The Code summarizes broad ethical principles that reflect the profession's core values and establishes a set of specific ethical standards that should be used to guide social work practice.
3. The Code is designed to help social workers identify relevant considerations when professional obligations conflict or ethical uncertainties arise.
4. The Code provides ethical standards to which the general public can hold the social work profession accountable.
5. The Code socializes practitioners new to the field to social work's mission, values, ethical principles, and ethical standards.
6. The Code articulates standards that the social work profession itself can use to assess whether social workers have engaged in unethical conduct. NASW has formal procedures to adjudicate ethics complaints filed against its members. In subscribing to this Code, social workers are required to cooperate in its implementation, participate in NASW adjudication proceedings, and abide by any NASW disciplinary rulings or sanctions based on it.

*For information on NASW adjudication procedures, see NASW Procedures for the Adjudication of Grievances.

The Code offers a set of values, principles, and standards to guide decision making and conduct when ethical issues arise. It does not provide a set of rules that prescribes how social workers should act in all situations. Specific applications of the Code must take into account the context in which it is being considered and the possibility of conflicts among the Code's values, principles, and standards. Ethical responsibilities flow from all human relationships, from the personal and familial to the social and professional.

Further, the NASW Code of Ethics does not specify which values, principles, and standards are most important and ought to outweigh others in instances when they conflict. Reasonable differences of opinion can and do exist among social workers with respect to the ways in which values, ethical principles, and ethical standards should be ranked ordered when they conflict. Ethical decision making in a given situation must apply the informed judgment of the individual social worker and should also consider how the issues would be judged in a peer review process where the ethical standards of the profession would be applied.

Ethical decision making is a process. There are many instances in social work where simple answers are not available to resolve complex ethical issues. Social workers should take into consideration all the values, principles, and standards in this Code that are relevant to any situation in which ethical judgment is warranted. Social workers' decisions and actions should be consistent with the spirit as well as the letter of this Code.

In addition to this Code, there are many other sources of information about ethical thinking that may be useful. Social workers should consider ethical theory and principles generally, social work theory and research, laws, regulations, agency policies, and other relevant codes of ethics, recognizing that among codes of ethics social workers should consider the NASW Code of Ethics as their primary source. Social workers also should be aware of the impact on ethical decision-making of their clients' and their own personal values and cultural and religious beliefs and practices. They should be aware of any conflicts between personal and professional values and deal with them responsibly. For additional guidance social workers should consult the relevant literature on professional ethics and ethical decision making and seek appropriate consultation when faced with ethical dilemmas. This may involve consultation with an agency-based social work organization's ethics committee, a regulatory body, knowledgeable colleagues, supervisors, or legal counsel.

Instances may arise when social workers' ethical obligations conflict with agency policies or relevant laws or regulations. When such conflicts occur, social workers must make a responsible effort to resolve the conflict in a manner that is consistent with the values, principles, and standards expressed in this Code. If a reasonable resolution of the conflict does not appear possible, social workers should seek proper consultation before making a decision.

The NASW Code of Ethics is to be used by NASW and by individuals, agencies, organizations, and bodies (such as licensing and regulatory boards, professional liability insurance providers, courts of law, agency boards of directors, government agencies, and other professional groups) that choose to adopt it or use it as a frame of reference. Violation of standards in this Code does not automatically imply legal liability or violation of the law. Such determination can only be made in the context of legal and judicial proceedings. Alleged violations of the Code would be subject to a peer review process. Such processes are generally separate from legal or administrative procedures and insulated from legal review or proceedings to allow the profession to counsel and discipline its own members.

A code of ethics cannot guarantee ethical behavior. Moreover, a code of ethics cannot resolve all ethical issues or disputes or capture the richness and complexity involved in striving to make responsible choices within a moral community. Rather, a code of ethics sets forth values, ethical principles, and ethical standards to which professionals aspire and by which their actions can be judged. Social workers' ethical behavior should result from their personal commitment to engage in ethical practice. This NASW Code of Ethics reflects the commitment of all social workers to uphold the profession's values and to act ethically. Principles and standards must be applied by individuals of good character who discern moral questions and, in good faith, seek to make reliable ethical judgments.
Ethical Principles

The following broad ethical principles are based on social work’s core values of service, social justice, dignity and worth of the person, importance of human relationships, integrity, and competence. These principles set forth ideals to which all social workers should aspire.

Values: Service

Ethical Principle: Social workers’ primary goal is to help people in need and to address social problems.

Social workers elevate service to others above self-interest. Social workers draw on their knowledge, values, and skills to help people in need and to address social problems. Social workers are encouraged to volunteer some portion of their professional skills with no expectation of significant financial return (pro bono service).

Values: Social Justice

Ethical Principle: Social workers challenge social injustice.

Social workers pursue social change, particularly with and on behalf of vulnerable and oppressed individuals and groups of people. Social workers’ social change efforts are focused primarily on issues of poverty, unemployment, discrimination, and other forms of social injustice. These activities seek to promote sensitivity to and knowledge about oppression and cultural and ethnic diversity. Social workers strive to ensure access to needed information, services, and resources; equality of opportunity; and meaningful participation in decision making for all people.

Values: Dignity and Worth of the Person

Ethical Principle: Social workers respect the inherent dignity and worth of the person.

Social workers treat each person in a caring and respectful fashion, mindful of individual differences and cultural and ethnic diversity. Social workers promote clients’ socially responsible self-determination. Social workers seek to enhance clients’ capacity and opportunity to change and to address their own needs. Social workers are cognizant of their dual responsibility to clients and to the broader society. They seek to resolve conflicts between clients’ interests and the broader society’s interests in a socially responsible manner consistent with the values, ethical principles, and ethical standards of the profession.

Values: Importance of Human Relationships

Ethical Principle: Social workers recognize the central importance of human relationships.

Social workers understand that relationships between and among people are an important vehicle for change. Social workers engage people as partners in the helping process. Social workers seek to strengthen relationships among people in a purposeful effort to promote, restore, maintain, and enhance the well-being of individuals, families, social groups, organizations, and communities.

Values: Integrity

Ethical Principle: Social workers behave in a trustworthy manner.

Social workers are continually aware of the profession’s mission, values, ethical principles, and ethical standards and practice in a manner consistent with them. Social workers act honestly and responsibly and promote ethical practices on the part of the organizations with which they are affiliated.

Values: Competence

Ethical Principle: Social workers practice within their areas of competence and develop and enhance their professional expertise.

Social workers continually strive to increase their professional knowledge and skills and to apply them in practice. Social workers should aspire to contribute to the knowledge base of the profession.
Ethical Standards

The following ethical standards are relevant to the professional activities of all social workers. These standards concern (1) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to clients, (2) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to colleagues, (3) social workers’ ethical responsibilities in practice settings, (4) social workers’ ethical responsibilities as professionals, (5) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to the social work profession, and (6) social workers’ ethical responsibilities to the broader society.

Some of the standards that follow are enforceable guidelines for professional conduct, and some are aspirational. The extent to which each standard is enforceable is a matter of professional judgment to be exercised by those responsible for reviewing alleged violations of ethical standards.

1. Social Workers’ Ethical Responsibilities to Clients

1.01 Commitment to Clients

Social workers’ primary responsibility is to promote the well-being of clients. In general, clients’ interests are primary. However, social workers’ responsibility to the larger society or specific legal obligations may on limited occasions supersede the loyalty owed clients, and clients should be so advised. (Examples include when a social worker is required by law to report that a client has abused a child or has threatened to harm self or others.)

1.02 Self-Determination

Social workers respect and promote the right of clients to self-determination and assist clients in their efforts to identify and clarify their goals. Social workers may limit clients’ right to self-determination when, in the social workers’ professional judgment, clients’ actions or potential actions pose a serious, foreseeable, and imminent risk to themselves or others.

1.03 Informed Consent

(a) Social workers should provide services to clients only in the context of a professional relationship based, when appropriate, on valid informed consent. Social workers should use clear and understandable language to inform clients of the purpose of the services, risks related to the services, limits to services because of the requirements of a third-party payer, relevant costs, reasonable alternatives, clients’ right to refuse or withdraw consent, and the time frame covered by the consent. Social workers should provide clients with an opportunity to ask questions.

(b) In instances when clients are not literate or have difficulty understanding the primary language used in the practice setting, social workers should take steps to ensure clients’ comprehension. This may include providing clients with a detailed verbal explanation or arranging for a qualified interpreter or translator whenever possible.

(c) In instances when clients lack the capacity to provide informed consent, social workers should protect clients’ interests by seeking permission from an appropriate third party, informing clients consistent with the clients’ level of understanding. In such instances social workers should seek to ensure that the third party acts in a manner consistent with clients’ wishes and interests. Social workers should take reasonable steps to enhance such clients’ ability to give informed consent.

(d) In instances when clients are receiving services involuntarily, social workers should provide information about the nature and extent of services and about the extent of clients’ right to refuse service.

(e) Social workers who provide services via electronic media (such as computer, telephone, radio, and television) should inform recipients of the limitations and risks associated with such services.

(f) Social workers should obtain clients’ informed consent before audiotaping or videotaping clients or permitting observation of services to clients by a third party.

1.04 Competence

(a) Social workers should provide services and represent themselves as competent only within the boundaries of their education, training, license, certification, consultation received, supervised experience, or other relevant professional experience.

(b) Social workers should provide services in substantive areas or use intervention techniques or approaches that are new to them only after engaging in appropriate study, training, consultation, and supervision from people who are competent in those interventions or techniques.

(c) When generally recognized standards do not exist with respect to an emerging area of practice, social workers should exercise careful judgment and take responsible steps (including appropriate education, research, training, consultation, and supervision) to ensure the competence of their work and to protect clients from harm.

1.05 Cultural Competence and Social Diversity

(a) Social workers should understand culture and its function in human behavior and society, recognizing the strengths that exist in all cultures.

(b) Social workers should have a knowledge base of their clients’ cultures and be able to demonstrate competence in the provision of services that are sensitive to clients’ cultures and to differences among people and cultural groups.
(c) Social workers should obtain education about and seek to understand the nature of social diversity and oppression with respect to race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, political belief, religion, and mental or physical disability.

1.06 Conflicts of Interest

(a) Social workers shall be alert to and avoid conflicts of interest that interfere with the exercise of professional discretion and impartial judgment. Social workers shall inform clients when a real or potential conflict of interest arises and take reasonable steps to resolve the issue in a manner that makes the clients’ interests primary and protects clients’ interests to the greatest extent possible. In some cases, protecting clients’ interests may require termination of the professional relationship with proper referral of the client.

(b) Social workers shall not take unfair advantage of any professional relationship or exploit others to further their personal, religious, political, or business interests.

(c) Social workers shall not engage in dual or multiple relationships with clients or former clients in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. In instances when dual or multiple relationships are unavoidable, social workers shall take steps to protect clients and are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries. (Dual or multiple relationships occur when social workers relate to clients in more than one relationship, whether professional, social, or business. Dual or multiple relationships can occur simultaneously or consecutively.)

(d) When social workers provide services to two or more people who have a relationship with each other (for example, couples, family members), social workers should clarify with all parties which individuals will be considered clients and the nature of social workers’ professional obligations to the various individuals who are receiving services. Social workers who anticipate a conflict of interest among the individuals receiving services or who anticipate having to perform in potentially conflicting roles (for example, when a social worker is asked to testify in a child custody dispute or divorce proceedings involving clients) should clarify their role with the parties involved and take appropriate action to minimize any conflict of interest.

1.07 Privacy and Confidentiality

(a) Social workers shall respect clients’ right to privacy. Social workers shall not solicit private information from clients unless it is essential to providing services or conducting social work evaluation or research. Once private information is shared, standards of confidentiality apply.

(b) Social workers may disclose confidential information when appropriate with valid consent from a client or a person legally authorized to consent on behalf of a client.

(c) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of all information obtained in the course of professional service, except for compelling professional reasons. The general expectation that social workers will keep information confidential does not apply when disclosure is necessary to prevent serious, foreseeable, and imminent harm to a client or other identifiable person. In all instances, social workers shall disclose the least amount of confidential information necessary to achieve the desired purpose; only information that is directly relevant to the purpose for which the disclosure is made should be revealed.

(d) Social workers shall inform clients, to the extent possible, about the disclosure of confidential information and the potential consequences, when feasible before the disclosure is made. This applies whether social workers disclose confidential information on the basis of a legal requirement or client consent.

(e) Social workers shall discuss with clients and other interested parties the nature of confidentiality and limitations of clients’ right to confidentiality. Social workers shall review with clients circumstances where confidential information may be requested and where disclosure of confidential information may be legally required. This discussion should occur as soon as possible in the social worker-client relationship and as needed throughout the course of the relationship.

(f) When social workers provide counseling services to families, couples, or groups, social workers should seek agreement among the parties involved concerning each individual’s right to confidentiality and obligation to preserve the confidentiality of information shared by others. Social workers should inform participants in family, couples, or group counseling that social workers cannot guarantee that all participants will honor such agreements.

(g) Social workers should inform clients involved in family, couples, marital, or group counseling of the social worker’s employer’s, and agency’s policy concerning the social worker’s disclosure of confidential information among the parties involved in the counseling.

(h) Social workers shall not disclose confidential information to third-party payers unless clients have authorized such disclosure.

(i) Social workers shall not discuss confidential information in any setting unless privacy can be ensured. Social workers shall not discuss confidential information in public or semipublic areas such as hallways, waiting rooms, elevators, and restaurants.

(j) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of clients during legal proceedings to the extent permitted by law. When a court of law or other legally authorized body orders social workers to disclose confidential or privileged information without a client’s consent and such disclosure could cause harm to the client, social workers should request that the court withdraw the order or limit the order as narrowly as possible or maintain the records under seal, unavailable for public inspection.

(k) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of clients when responding to requests from members of the media.

(l) Social workers shall protect the confidentiality of clients’ written and electronic records and other sensitive information. Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that clients’ records are stored in a secure location and that clients’ records are not available to others who are not authorized to have access.

(m) Social workers should take precautions to ensure and maintain the confidentiality of information transmitted to other parties through the use of computers, electronic mail, facsimile machines, telephones and telephone answering machines, and other electronic or computer technology. Disclosure of identifying information should be avoided whenever possible.

(n) Social workers should transfer or dispose of clients’ records in a manner that protects clients’ confidentiality and is consistent with state statutes governing records and social work licensure.

(o) Social workers should take reasonable precautions to protect client confidentiality in the event of the social worker's termination of practice, incapacitation, or death.

(p) Social workers should not disclose identifying information when discussing clients for teaching or training purposes unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information.

(q) Social workers should not disclose identifying information when discussing clients with consultants unless the client has consented to disclosure of confidential information or there is a compelling need for such disclosure.

(r) Social workers should protect the confidentiality of deceased clients consistent with the preceding standards.

1.08 Access to Records

(a) Social workers should provide clients with reasonable access to records concerning the clients. Social workers who are concerned that clients’ access to their records could cause serious misunderstanding or harm to the client should provide assistance in interpreting the records and consultation with the client regarding the records. Social workers should limit clients’ access to their records, or portions of their records, only in exceptional circumstances when there is compelling evidence that such access would cause serious harm to the client. Both clients’ requests and the rationale for withholding some or all of the record should be documented in clients’ files.

(b) When providing clients with access to their records, social workers should take steps to protect the confidentiality of other individuals identified or discussed in such records.

1.09 Sexual Relationships

(a) Social workers should under no circumstances engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with current clients, whether such contact is consensual or forced.

(b) Social workers should not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with clients’ relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a close personal relationship when there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the client. Sexual activity or sexual contact with clients’ relatives or other individuals with whom clients maintain a personal relationship has the potential to be harmful to the client and may make it difficult for the social worker and client to maintain appropriate professional boundaries. Social workers—not their clients, their clients’ relatives, or other individuals with whom the client maintains a personal relationship—assume the full burden for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.

(c) Social workers should not engage in sexual activities or sexual contact with former clients because of the potential for harm to the client. If social workers engage in conduct contrary to this prohibition or claim that an exception to this prohibition is warranted because of extraordinary circumstances, it is social workers—not their clients—who assume the full burden of demonstrating that the former client has not been exploited, coerced, or manipulated, intentionally or unintentionally.

(d) Social workers should not provide clinical services to individuals with whom they have had a prior sexual relationship. Providing clinical services to a former sexual partner has the potential to be harmful to the individual and is likely to make it difficult for the social worker and individual to maintain appropriate professional boundaries.

1.10 Physical Contact

Social workers should not engage in physical contact with clients when there is a possibility of psychological harm to the client as a result of the contact (such as caressing or caressing clients). Social workers who engage in appropriate physical contact with clients are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries that govern such physical contact.

1.11 Sexual Harassment

Social workers should not sexually harass clients. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

1.12 Derogatory Language

Social workers should not use derogatory language in their written or verbal communications to or about clients. Social workers should use accurate and respectful language in all communications to and about clients.

1.13 Payment for Services

(a) When setting fees, social workers should ensure that the fees are fair, reasonable, and commensurate with the services performed. Consideration should be given to clients’ ability to pay.
(b) Social workers should avoid accepting goods or services from clients as payment for professional services. Bartering arrangements, particularly involving services, create the potential for conflicts of interest, exploitation, and inappropriate boundaries in social workers' relationships with clients. Social workers should explore and participate in bartering only in very limited circumstances when it can be demonstrated that such arrangements are an accepted practice among professionals in the local community, considered to be essential for the provision of services, negotiated without coercion, and entered into at the client's initiative and with the client's informed consent. Social workers who accept goods or services from clients as payment for professional services assume the full burden of demonstrating that this arrangement will not be detrimental to the client or the professional relationship.

(c) Social workers should not solicit a private fee or other remuneration for providing services to clients who are entitled to such available services through the social workers' employer or agency.

1.14 Clients Who Lack Decision-Making Capacity

When social workers act on behalf of clients who lack the capacity to make informed decisions, social workers should take reasonable steps to safeguard the interests and rights of those clients.

1.15 Interruption of Services

Social workers should make reasonable efforts to ensure continuity of services in the event that services are interrupted by factors such as unavailability, relocation, illness, disability, or death.

1.16 Termination of Services

(a) Social workers should terminate services to clients and professional relationships with them when such services and relationships are no longer required or no longer serve the clients' needs or interests.

(b) Social workers should take reasonable steps to avoid abandoning clients who are still in need of services. Social workers should withdraw services precipitously only under unusual circumstances, giving careful consideration to all factors in the situation and taking care to minimize possible adverse effects. Social workers should assist in making appropriate arrangements for continuation of services when necessary.

(c) Social workers in fee-for-service settings may terminate services to clients who are not paying an overdue balance if the financial contractual arrangements have been made clear to the client, if the client does not pose an imminent danger to self or others, and if the clinical and other consequences of the current nonpayment have been addressed and discussed with the client.

(d) Social workers should not terminate services to pursue a social, financial, or sexual relationship with a client.

(e) Social workers who anticipate the termination or interruption of services to clients should notify clients promptly and seek the transfer, referral, or continuation of services in relation to the clients' needs and preferences.

(f) Social workers who are leaving an employment setting should inform clients of alternative options for the continuation of services and of the benefits and risks of the options.

2. Social Workers' Ethical Responsibilities to Colleagues

2.01 Respect

(a) Social workers should treat colleagues with respect and should represent accurately and fairly the qualifications, views, and obligations of colleagues.

(b) Social workers should avoid unwarranted negative criticism of colleagues in communications with clients or with other professionals. Unwarranted negative criticism may include demeaning comments that refer to colleagues' level of competence or to individual's attributes such as race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, political belief, religion, and mental or physical disability.

(c) Social workers should cooperate with social work colleagues and with colleagues of other professions when such cooperation serves the well-being of clients.

2.02 Confidentiality

Social workers should respect confidential information shared by colleagues in the course of their professional relationships and transactions. Social workers should ensure that such colleagues understand social workers' obligation to respect confidentiality and any exceptions related to it.

2.03 Interdisciplinary Collaboration

(a) Social workers who are members of an interdisciplinary team should participate in and contribute to decisions that affect the well-being of clients by drawing on the perspectives, values, and experiences of the social work profession. Professional and ethical obligations of the interdisciplinary team as a whole and of its individual members should be clearly established.

(b) Social workers for whom a team decision raises ethical concerns should attempt to resolve the disagreement through appropriate channels. If the disagreement cannot be resolved, social workers should pursue other avenues to address their concerns consistent with client well-being.
2.04 Disputes Involving Colleagues

(a) Social workers should not take advantage of a dispute between a colleague and an employer to obtain a position or otherwise advance the social workers’ own interests.

(b) Social workers should not exploit clients in disputes with colleagues or engage clients in any inappropriate discussion of conflicts between social workers and their colleagues.

2.05 Consultation

(a) Social workers should seek the advice and counsel of colleagues whenever such consultation is in the best interests of clients.

(b) Social workers should keep themselves informed about colleagues’ areas of expertise and competencies. Social workers should seek consultation only from colleagues who have demonstrated knowledge, expertise, and competence related to the subject of the consultation.

(c) When consulting with colleagues about clients, social workers should disclose the least amount of information necessary to achieve the purposes of the consultation.

2.06 Referral for Services

(a) Social workers should refer clients to other professionals when the other professionals’ specialized knowledge or expertise is needed to serve clients fully or when social workers believe that they are not being effective or making reasonable progress with clients and that additional service is required.

(b) Social workers who refer clients to other professionals should take appropriate steps to facilitate an orderly transfer of responsibility. Social workers who refer clients to other professionals should disclose, with clients’ consent, all pertinent information to the new service providers.

(c) Social workers are prohibited from giving or receiving payment for a referral when no professional service is provided by the referring social worker.

2.07 Sexual Relationships

(a) Social workers who function as supervisors or educators should not engage in sexual activities or contact with supervisees, students, trainees, or other colleagues over whom they exercise professional authority.

(b) Social workers should avoid engaging in sexual relationships with colleagues when there is potential for a conflict of interest. Social workers who become involved in, or anticipate becoming involved in, a sexual relationship with a colleague have a duty to transfer professional responsibilities, when necessary, to avoid a conflict of interest.

2.08 Sexual Harassment

Social workers should not sexually harass supervisees, students, trainees, or colleagues. Sexual harassment includes sexual advances, sexual solicitation, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

2.09 Impairment of Colleagues

(a) Social workers who have direct knowledge of a social work colleague’s impairment that is due to personal problems, psychosocial distress, substance abuse, or mental health difficulties and that interferes with practice effectiveness should consult with that colleague when feasible and assist the colleague in taking remedial action.

(b) Social workers who believe that a social work colleague’s impairment interferes with practice effectiveness and that the colleague has not taken adequate steps to address the impairment should take action through appropriate channels established by employers, agencies, NASW, licensing and regulatory bodies, and other professional organizations.

2.10 Incompetence of Colleagues

(a) Social workers who have direct knowledge of a social work colleague’s incompetence should consult with that colleague when feasible and assist the colleague in taking remedial action.

(b) Social workers who believe that a social work colleague is incompetent and has not taken adequate steps to address the incompetence should take action through appropriate channels established by employers, agencies, NASW, licensing and regulatory bodies, and other professional organizations.

2.11 Unethical Conduct of Colleagues

(a) Social workers should take adequate measures to discourage, prevent, expose, and correct the unethical conduct of colleagues.

(b) Social workers should be knowledgeable about established policies and procedures for handling concerns about colleagues’ unethical behavior. Social workers should be familiar with national, state, and local procedures for handling ethics complaints. These include policies and procedures created by NASW, licensing and regulatory bodies, employers, agencies, and other professional organizations.
3. Social Workers' Ethical Responsibilities in Practice Settings

3.01 Supervision and Consultation

(a) Social workers who provide supervision or consultation should have the necessary knowledge and skill to supervise or consult appropriately and should do so only within their areas of knowledge and competence.

(b) Social workers who provide supervision or consultation are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.

(c) Social workers who function as educators or field instructors for students should take reasonable steps to ensure that clients are routinely informed when services are being provided by students.

(d) Social workers who function as educators or field instructors for students should not engage in any dual or multiple relationships with students in which there is a risk of exploitation or potential harm to the student. Social work educators and field instructors are responsible for setting clear, appropriate, and culturally sensitive boundaries.

Social workers who have responsibility for evaluating the performance of others should fulfill such responsibility in a fair and considerate manner and on the basis of clearly stated criteria.

3.04 Client Records

(a) Social workers should take reasonable steps to ensure that documentation in records is accurate and reflects the services provided.

(b) Social workers should include sufficient and timely documentation in records to facilitate the delivery of services and to ensure continuity of services provided to clients in the future.

(c) Social workers' documentation should protect clients' privacy to the extent that is possible and appropriate and should include only information that is directly relevant to the delivery of services.

(d) Social workers should store records following the termination of services to ensure reasonable future access. Records should be maintained for the number of years required by state statutes or relevant contracts.

3.05 Billing

Social workers should establish and maintain billing practices that accurately reflect the nature and extent of services provided and that identify who provided the service in the practice setting.

3.06 Client Transfer

(a) When an individual who is receiving services from another agency or colleague contacts a social worker for services, the social worker should carefully consider the client's needs before agreeing to provide services. To minimize possible confusion and conflict, social workers should discuss with potential clients the nature of the clients' current relationship with other service providers and the implications, including possible benefits or risks, of entering into a relationship with a new service provider.

(b) If a new client has been served by another agency or colleague, social workers should discuss with the client whether consultation with the previous service provider is in the client's best interest.
3.07 Administration
(a) Social work administrators should advocate within and outside their agencies for adequate resources to meet clients' needs.

(b) Social workers should advocate for resource allocation procedures that are open and fair. When not all clients' needs can be met, an allocation procedure should be developed that is nondiscriminatory and based on appropriate and consistently applied principles.

(c) Social workers who are administrators should take reasonable steps to ensure that adequate agency or organizational resources are available to provide appropriate staff supervision.

(d) Social work administrators should take reasonable steps to ensure that the working environment for which they are responsible is consistent with and encourages compliance with the NASW Code of Ethics. Social work administrators should take reasonable steps to eliminate any conditions in their organizations that violate, interfere with, or discourage compliance with the Code.

3.08 Continuing Education and Staff Development
Social work administrators and supervisors should take reasonable steps to provide or arrange for continuing education and staff development for all staff for whom they are responsible. Continuing education and staff development should address current knowledge and emerging developments related to social work practice and ethics.

3.09 Commitments to Employers
(a) Social workers generally should adhere to commitments made to employers and employing organizations.

(b) Social workers should work to improve employing agencies' policies and procedures and the efficiency and effectiveness of their services.

(f) Social workers should accept employment or arrange student field placements only in organizations that exercise fair personnel practices.

(g) Social workers should be diligent stewards of the resources of their employing organizations, wisely conserving funds where appropriate and never misappropriating funds or using them for unintended purposes.

(a) Social workers may engage in organized action, including the formation of and participation in labor unions, to improve services to clients and working conditions.

(b) The actions of social workers who are involved in labor-management disputes, job actions, or labor strikes should be guided by the profession's values, ethical principles, and ethical standards. Reasonable differences of opinion exist among social workers concerning their primary obligation as professionals during an actual or threatened labor strike or job action. Social workers should carefully examine relevant issues and their possible impact on clients before deciding on a course of action.

These activities may include teaching, research, consultation, service, legislative testimony, presentations in the community, and participation in their professional organizations.
(d) Social workers should contribute to the knowledge base of social work and share with colleagues their knowledge related to practice, research, and ethics. (e) Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should obtain voluntary and written informed consent from participants, when appropriate, without any implied or actual deprivation or penalty for refusal to participate; without undue inducement to participate; and with due regard for participants' well-being, privacy, and dignity. Informed consent should include information about the nature, extent, and duration of the participation requested and disclosure of the risks and benefits of participation in the research.

(f) When evaluation or research participants are incapable of giving informed consent, social workers should provide an appropriate explanation to the participants, obtain the participants' assent to the extent they are able, and obtain written consent from an appropriate proxy.

(g) Social workers should never design or conduct evaluation or research that does not use consent procedures, such as certain forms of naturalistic observation and archival research, unless rigorous and responsible review of the research has found it to be justified because of its prospective scientific, educational, or applied value and unless equally effective alternative procedures that do not involve waiver of consent are not feasible.

(h) Social workers should inform participants of their right to withdraw from evaluation and research at any time without penalty.

(i) Social workers should take appropriate steps to ensure that participants in evaluation and research have access to appropriate supportive services.

(j) Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should protect participants from unwanted physical or mental distress, harm, danger, or deprivation. (k) Social workers engaged in the evaluation of services should discuss collected information only for professional purposes and only with people professionally concerned with this information.

(l) Social workers engaged in evaluation or research should ensure the anonymity or confidentiality of participants and of the data obtained from them. Social workers should inform participants of any limits of confidentiality; the measures that will be taken to ensure confidentiality; and when any records containing research data will be destroyed.

(m) Social workers who report evaluation and research results should protect participants' confidentiality by omitting identifying information unless proper consent has been obtained authorizing disclosure.

(d) Social workers should act to prevent and eliminate domination of, exploitation of, and discrimination against any person, group, or class on the basis of race, ethnicity, national origin, color, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, political belief, religion, or mental or physical disability.
Ethics in Social Work, Statement of Principles

International Federation of Social Workers (IFSW)
International Association of Schools of Social Work (IASSW)

1. Preface

Ethical awareness is a fundamental part of the professional practice of social workers. Their ability and commitment to act ethically is an essential aspect of the quality of the service offered to those who use social work services. The purpose of the work of IASSW and IFSW on ethics is to promote ethical debate and reflection in the member organizations, among the providers of social work in member countries, as well as in the schools of social work and among social work students. Some ethical challenges and problems facing social workers are specific to particular countries; others are common. By staying at the level of general principles, the joint IASSW and IFSW statement aims to encourage social workers across the world to reflect on the challenges and dilemmas that face them and make ethically informed decisions about how to act in each particular case. Some of these problem areas include:

- The fact that the loyalty of social workers is often in the middle of conflicting interests.
- The fact that social workers function as both helpers and controllers.
- The conflicts between the duty of social workers to protect the interests of the people with whom they work and societal demands for efficiency and utility.
- The fact that resources in society are limited.

This document takes as its starting point the definition of social work adopted separately by the IFSW and IASSW at their respective General Meetings in Montreal, Canada in July 2000 and then agreed jointly in Copenhagen in May 2001 (section 2). This definition stresses principles of human rights and social justice. The next section (3) makes reference to the various declarations and conventions on human rights that are relevant to social work, followed by a statement of general ethical principles under the two broad headings of human rights and dignity and social justice (section 4). The final section introduces some basic guidance on ethical conduct in social work, which it is expected will be elaborated by the ethical guidance and in various codes and guidelines of the member organizations of IFSW and IASSW.
2. Definition of Social Work

The social work profession promotes social change, problem solving in human relationships and the empowerment and liberation of people to enhance well-being. Utilizing theories of human behavior and social systems, social work intervenes at the points where people interact with their environments. Principles of human rights and social justice are fundamental to social work.

3. International Conventions

International human rights declarations and conventions form common standards of achievement, and recognize rights that are accepted by the global community. Documents particularly relevant to social work practice and action are:

- Universal Declaration of Human Rights
- The International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights
- The International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights
- The Convention on the Elimination of all Forms of Racial Discrimination
- The Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women
- The Convention on the Rights of the Child
- Indigenous and Tribal Peoples Convention (ILO convention 169)

4. Principles

4.1. Human Rights and Human Dignity

Social work is based on respect for the inherent worth and dignity of all people, and the rights that follow from this. Social workers should uphold and defend each person’s physical, psychological, emotional and spiritual integrity and well-being. This means:

1. Respecting the right to self-determination - Social workers should respect and promote people’s right to make their own choices and decisions, irrespective of their values and life choices, provided this does not threaten the rights and legitimate interests of others.

2. Promoting the right to participation - Social workers should promote the full involvement and participation of people using their services in ways that enable them to be empowered in all aspects of decisions and actions affecting their lives.
3. Treating each person as a whole - Social workers should be concerned with the whole person, within the family, community, societal and natural environments, and should seek to recognise all aspects of a person’s life.

4. Identifying and developing strengths – Social workers should focus on the strengths of all

4.2. Social Justice

Social workers have a responsibility to promote social justice, in relation to society generally, and in relation to the people with whom they work. This means:

1. Challenging negative discrimination* - Social workers have a responsibility to challenge negative discrimination on the basis of characteristics such as ability, age, culture, gender or sex, marital status, socio-economic status, political opinions, skin colour, racial or other physical characteristics, sexual orientation, or spiritual beliefs.

*In some countries the term “discrimination” would be used instead of “negative discrimination”. The word negative is used here because in some countries the term “positive discrimination” is also used. Positive discrimination is also known as “affirmative action”. Positive discrimination or affirmative action means positive steps taken to redress the effects of historical discrimination against the groups named in clause 4.2.1 above.

2. Recognizing diversity – Social workers should recognize and respect the ethnic and cultural diversity of the societies in which they practice, taking account of individual, family, group and community differences.

3. Distributing resources equitably – Social workers should ensure that resources at their disposal are distributed fairly, according to need.

4. Challenging unjust policies and practices – Social workers have a duty to bring to the attention of their employers, policy makers, politicians and the general public situations where resources are inadequate or where distribution of resources, policies and practices are oppressive, unfair or harmful.

5. Working in solidarity - Social workers have an obligation to challenge social conditions that contribute to social exclusion, stigmatization or subjugation, and to work towards an inclusive society.

5. Professional conduct

It is the responsibility of the national organizations in membership of IFSW and IASSW to develop and regularly update their own codes of ethics or ethical guidelines, to be consistent with the IFSW/ IASSW statement. It is also the responsibility of national organizations to inform social workers and schools of social work about these codes or guidelines. Social workers should act in accordance with the ethical code or guidelines current in their country. These will generally include more detailed guidance in ethical practice specific to the national context. The following general guidelines on professional conduct apply:
1. Social workers are expected to develop and maintain the required skills and competence to do their job.

2. Social workers should not allow their skills to be used for inhumane purposes, such as torture or terrorism.

3. Social workers should act with integrity. This includes not abusing the relationship of trust with the people using their services, recognizing the boundaries between personal and professional life, and not abusing their position for personal benefit or gain.

4. Social workers should act in relation to the people using their services with compassion, empathy and care.

5. Social workers should not subordinate the needs or interests of people who use their services to their own needs or interests.

6. Social workers have a duty to take necessary steps to care for themselves professionally and personally in the workplace and in society, in order to ensure that they are able to provide appropriate services.

7. Social workers should maintain confidentiality regarding information about people who use their services. Exceptions to this may only be justified on the basis of a greater ethical requirement (such as the preservation of life).

8. Social workers need to acknowledge that they are accountable for their actions to the users of their services, the people they work with, their colleagues, their employers, the professional association and to the law, and that these accountabilities may conflict.

9. Social workers should be willing to collaborate with the schools of social work in order to support social work students to get practical training of good quality and up to date practical knowledge.

10. Social workers should foster and engage in ethical debate with their colleagues and employers and take responsibility for making ethically informed decisions.

11. Social workers should be prepared to state the reasons for their decisions based on ethical considerations, and be accountable for their choices and actions.

12. Social workers should work to create conditions in employing agencies and in their countries where the principles of this statement and those of their own national code (if applicable) are discussed, evaluated and upheld.

1. ANTECEDENTES

Una conciencia ética es parte necesaria de la práctica profesional de todo trabajador social. Su capacidad de actuar según unos principios éticos es un aspecto fundamental de la calidad del servicio que ofrece.

El objetivo del trabajo de la FITS sobre la ética es promover una reflexión y un debate en las asociaciones y colegios profesionales miembros de la Federación y entre los trabajadores sociales de los países miembros.

Las bases para el posterior desarrollo del trabajo de la FITS sobre la ética se encuentran en "La Ética del Trabajo Social - Principios y Criterios" que consta de dos documentos: "Declaración Internacional sobre los Principios Éticos del Trabajo Social" y "Criterios Éticos Internacionales para los Trabajadores Sociales". Estos documentos exponen los principios éticos básicos de la profesión de trabajo social, recomiendan procedimientos en los casos de dilemas éticos, y tratan de la relación de la profesión y de los trabajadores sociales individuales con los clientes y usuarios, colegas y otras personas relacionadas con este campo. Estos documentos son parte de un proceso continuo de puesta en práctica y revisión.

2. DECLARACION INTERNACIONAL DE PRINCIPIOS ÉTICOS DEL TRABAJO SOCIAL

2.1 Introducción

La FITS reconoce la necesidad de una declaración de principios éticos que sirva de guía en relación a los problemas éticos en el trabajo social.

Los objetivos de la Declaración Internacional de Principios Éticos son:

1. Formular un conjunto de principios básicos para el trabajo social, que pueda adaptarse a distintos ámbitos sociales y culturales.

2. Identificar áreas éticamente problemáticas en la práctica del trabajo social (a partir de ahora nos referiremos a ellas como “áreas problema”).

3. Proporcionar orientación sobre los métodos a elegir para tratar y resolver cuestiones o problemas éticos (se denominan partir de ahora "métodos para actuar en cuestiones o ante problemas éticos").

Conformidad:
La Declaración Internacional de Principios Éticos da por sentado que las asociaciones afiliadas a la FITS, así como los miembros de cada una de ellas, se adhieren a los principios formulados en ella. La FITS espera que cada asociación ayude a sus miembros a identificar y resolver las cuestiones o problemas éticos que se presenten en el ejercicio de la profesión.

Las asociaciones miembros de la FITS y sus asociados pueden informar ante el Comité Ejecutivo de la FITS acerca de aquellas asociaciones que no se adhieran a estos principios. Las Asociaciones Nacionales que experimenten dificultades para adoptar estos principios deben notificarlo al Comité Ejecutivo de la FITS. El Comité Ejecutivo podrá imponer las condiciones e intenciones de la Declaración de Principios Éticos a aquellas asociaciones que no las acaten. Si esto no fuera suficiente, el Comité Ejecutivo puede, como paso siguiente, sugerir la suspensión o expulsión de la asociación.

La Declaración Internacional de Principios Éticos se debe hacer pública. Esto permitirá a clientes y usuarios, empleadores, profesionales de otras disciplinas y público en general, saber a qué atenerse respecto a los fundamentos éticos del trabajo social.

Somos conscientes de que un conjunto detallado de criterios éticos para las asociaciones miembros sería poco realista, debido a las diferencias legales, culturales y políticas de los distintos países miembros.

2.2 Los Principios

Los trabajadores sociales contribuyen al desarrollo de los seres humanos, por medio de su aceptación de los siguientes principios básicos:

2.2.1 Todo ser humano posee un valor único, lo que justifica la consideración moral hacia cada persona.

2.2.2 Cada individuo tiene derecho a la autorealización, hasta donde no interfiera con el mismo derecho de los demás, y tiene la obligación de contribuir al bienestar de la sociedad.

2.2.3 Cada sociedad, independientemente de su organización, debe funcionar de manera que proporcione los máximos beneficios a todos sus miembros.

2.2.4 Los trabajadores sociales tienen un compromiso con los principios de la justicia social.

2.2.5 Los trabajadores sociales tienen la responsabilidad de dedicar sus conocimientos y técnicas, de forma objetiva y disciplinada, a ayudar a los individuos, grupos, comunidades y sociedades en su desarrollo y en la resolución de los conflictos personales y/o sociales y sus consecuencias.
2.2.6 Los trabajadores sociales deberán proporcionar la mejor atención posible a todos aquellos que soliciten su ayuda y asesoramiento, sin discriminaciones injustas basadas en diferencias de género, edad, discapacidad, color, clase social, raza, religión, lengua, creencias políticas o inclinación sexual.

2.2.7 Los trabajadores sociales respetan los derechos humanos fundamentales de los individuos y los grupos reconocidos en la Declaración Universal de los Derechos Humanos de las Naciones Unidas y otros acuerdos internacionales derivados de dicha Declaración.

2.2.8 Los trabajadores sociales tienen en cuenta los principios de derecho a la intimidad, confidencialidad y uso responsable de la información, en su trabajo profesional. Los trabajadores sociales respetan la confidencialidad justificada, aún en los casos en que la legislación de su país esté en conflicto con este derecho.

2.2.9 Los trabajadores sociales deben trabajar en estrecha colaboración con los clientes y usuarios, y en interés de los mismos, pero prestando el debido respeto a los intereses de las demás personas involucradas. Se debe motivar a los clientes y usuarios a que participen los más posible y deben ser informados de los riesgos y posibles ventajas de las propuestas de actuación que se les ofrezcan.

2.2.10 Los trabajadores sociales esperan, generalmente, que los clientes y usuarios se responsabilicen, en colaboración con ellos, de las actuaciones que puedan afectar a su vida. Sólo deberían adoptarse medidas coercitivas en favor de una de las partes implicadas en un conflicto, después de una cuidadosa evaluación de los argumentos de cada una de las partes en litigio. Los trabajadores sociales deben hacer el menor uso posible de medidas legales coercitivas.

2.2.11 El trabajo social es incompatible con el apoyo, directo o indirecto, a los individuos, grupos, fuerzas políticas o estructuras de poder que destruyan a otros seres humanos con el terrorismo, la tortura u otros medios violentos similares.

2.2.12 Los trabajadores sociales toman decisiones justificadas éticamente y las mantienen, teniendo en cuenta la "Declaración Internacional de Principios Éticos de la FITS" y los "Criterios Éticos Internacionales para los Trabajadores Sociales" adoptados por sus asociaciones y colegios profesionales nacionales.

2.3 Areas problema

2.3.1 Las áreas problema en las que se plantean cuestiones éticas, no son necesariamente universales debido a diferencias políticas y culturales. Se anima a cada asociación nacional a promover debates y aclarar cuestiones de contenido importante y problemas especialmente relevantes para cada país. Las siguientes áreas problema son, sin embargo, ampliamente reconocidas como tales:

1) Cuando el trabajador social se encuentre ante una situación de conflicto entre los intereses de:
Los propios trabajadores sociales y sus clientes.

Clientes individuales y otros individuos.

Grupos de clientes.

Grupos de clientes y el resto de la población.

Sistemas/instituciones y grupos de clientes.

Sistemas/instituciones/empleadores y trabajadores sociales.

Distintos grupos de profesionales.

2) El hecho de que el trabajador social actúe a la vez para ayudar y controlar.

La relación entre estos dos aspectos opuestos del trabajo social exige una aclaración, basada en una elección explícita de valores, para evitar que se mezclen las motivaciones, o que no estén claras, así como las actuaciones y las consecuencias de dichas actuaciones.

Cuando esté previsto que los trabajadores sociales actúen en un rol de control de los ciudadanos para la Administración, están obligados a aclarar las implicaciones éticas de este cometido y, hasta qué medida, este papel es aceptable desde el punto de vista de los principios éticos del trabajo social.

3) El deber que tiene el trabajador social de proteger los intereses del cliente puede entrar fácilmente en conflicto con demandas de eficiencia y utilidad.

La importancia de este problema aumenta cada día debido a la introducción y uso de la tecnología informática en los diversos campos del trabajo social.

2.3.2 Los principios establecidos en el apartado 2.2 deben ser siempre la base de cualquier consideración o elección hecha por los trabajadores sociales al enfrentarse con cuestiones o problemas en estas áreas.

2.4 Métodos para la resolución de cuestiones o problemas

2.4.1 Es necesario que a la hora de tratar cualquier asunto dentro de las asociaciones nacionales de trabajadores sociales, se tengan en cuenta las cuestiones o problemas éticos y se intente resolverlos en foros colectivos dentro de cada organización. Estos foros deberán posibilitar que los trabajadores sociales discutan, analicen y traten de las cuestiones o problemas éticos con sus colegas, otros grupos de expertos y con personas afectadas por los temas en discusión. Además dichos foros deberán proporcionar la posibilidad de que los trabajadores sociales reciban orientaciones de sus colegas y de otras personas. El análisis y la discusión de cuestiones de tipo ético deben ir siempre encaminados hacia la búsqueda de opciones y posibilidades.
2.4.2 Las asociaciones miembros tienen que elaborar y/o adaptar criterios éticos para los distintos campos de trabajo, sobre todo para aquellos en los que surgen cuestiones y problemas éticos complicados y también para aquellas áreas donde los principios éticos del trabajo social pueden entrar en conflicto con el sistema legal del país en cuestión o la política gubernamental.

2.4.3 Cuando existan unos fundamentos éticos establecidos como guía para las actuaciones en la práctica del trabajo social, el deber de las asociaciones es ayudar a los trabajadores sociales a analizar y plantearse las cuestiones o problemas éticos sobre estas bases:

1. Los principios básicos de la Declaración (apartado 2.2).

2. El contexto ético/moral y político de las actuaciones; es decir, un análisis de los valores y fuerzas en que se encuadra la acción.

3. Los motivos de la actuación, o sea, procurar que cada trabajador social sea cada vez más consciente de cuales son sus intenciones y objetivos en cada actuación que emprende.

4. La naturaleza de la actuación, es decir, ayudar a realizar un análisis del contenido moral de la actuación, por ejemplo, casos en que hay que imponer una decisión en vez de conseguir una cooperación voluntaria.

5. Las consecuencias que una actuación puede tener sobre distintos grupos, o sea, un análisis de las consecuencias de diversas líneas de actuación sobre todas las partes implicadas, a corto y largo plazo.

2.4.4 Las asociaciones miembro tienen la responsabilidad de promover debates, formación e investigación sobre cuestiones éticas.

3. CRITERIOS ETICOS INTERNACIONALES PARA LOS TRABAJADORES SOCIALES

(Esta sección se basa en el "Código Internacional Deontológico para el Trabajador Social Profesional” adoptado por la FITS en 1976, pero no incluye los principios éticos, dado que éstos figuran actualmente en la nueva Declaración Internacional de Principios Éticos del Trabajo Social, en el apartado 2.2 del presente documento).

3.1 Preámbulo

El trabajo social tiene su origen, de una u otra forma, en filosofías e ideales humanitarios, religiosos y democráticos. Su aplicación es universal y se dirige hacia aquellas necesidades humanas que surgen de la interrelación personal-social, y también a desarrollar el potencial humano. Los trabajadores sociales profesionales se dedican a conseguir el bienestar y la autorrealización de los seres humanos; al desarrollo y utilización correcta de los conocimientos respecto al comportamiento humano y social; al desarrollo de los recursos necesarios para atender las aspiraciones y necesidades de los individuos, de los grupos, nacionales e internacionales; y a la consecución de la justicia social. Basándose en la Declaración Internacional de Principios Éticos del Trabajo Social, el trabajador social está obligado a aceptar estos criterios de conducta ética.

3.2 Criterios Generales de Conducta Ética

3.2.1 Tratar de comprender a cada cliente individual y su entorno, así como los elementos que afectan su conducta y el servicio requerido.

3.2.2 Mantener y defender los valores, conocimientos y metodología de la profesión, absteniéndose de cualquier comportamiento que perjudique el desarrollo de la misma.

3.2.3 Reconocer las limitaciones profesionales y personales.

3.2.4 Promover la utilización de todas las técnicas y conocimientos apropiados.

3.2.5 Aplicar métodos adecuados para el desarrollo y la validez de los conocimientos.

3.2.6 Contribuir con la experiencia profesional al desarrollo de políticas y programas que mejoren la calidad de vida en la sociedad.

3.2.7 Identificar e interpretar las necesidades sociales.

3.2.8 Identificar e interpretar los orígenes y naturaleza de los problemas sociales, a nivel, tanto individual como de grupo, comunidad, nacional e internacional.

3.2.9 Identificar e interpretar el trabajo profesional.

3.2.10 Clarificar si las declaraciones públicas o las actuaciones se hacen a nivel individual o en representación de una asociación profesional, entidad, organización, u otros grupos.

3.3 Criterios del Trabajo Social en relación con los Clientes

3.3.1 Aceptar una responsabilidad fundamental respecto a clientes o usuarios concretos, dentro de las limitaciones que marquen los derechos de los demás.

3.3.2 Salvaguardar el derecho del cliente o usuario a una relación de confianza, intimidad y confidencialidad, así como al uso responsable de la información la obtención y difusión de información o datos sólo debe realizarse en función de un servicio profesional, manteniendo al cliente informado de su necesidad y utilización. No se divulgará información sin el conocimiento y consentimiento previos del cliente o usuario, excepto si éste no es responsable o se puede perjudicar gravemente a otras personas. El cliente tiene acceso a los expedientes de trabajo social que le conciernen.
3.3.3 Reconocer y respetar los objetivos, responsabilidades y diferencias individuales de los clientes y usuarios. Dentro del ámbito de la entidad y del medio social del cliente, el servicio profesional debe ayudar a los usuarios a responsabilizarse de las actuaciones personales y atender a todos los clientes y usuarios con igual disposición. En los casos en que los servicios profesionales no puedan ofrecerse en estas condiciones, el cliente será informado para que pueda actuar libremente.

3.3.4 Ayudar al cliente o usuario - individuo, grupo, comunidad o sociedad - a conseguir su autorealización y máximo potencial dentro de los límites de los derechos respectivos de los demás. El servicio debe basarse en ayudar a los clientes y usuarios a comprender y utilizar la relación profesional para desarrollar los legítimos deseos e intereses de dichos clientes y usuarios.

3.4 Criterios del Trabajo Social en relación con las Entidades y Organizaciones

3.4.1 Trabajar y/o cooperar con las entidades y organizaciones cuyas políticas, procedimientos y operaciones van dirigidas a proporcionar servicios adecuados y promover la práctica profesional dentro del marco de los principios éticos de la FITS.

3.4.2 Cumplir responsablemente los objetivos establecidos y las funciones de la entidad u organización, contribuyendo al desarrollo de políticas, procedimientos y prácticas debidas para conseguir los mejores niveles posibles de actuación.

3.4.3 Mantener que la responsabilidad última es hacia el cliente, poniendo en marcha los necesarios cambios de políticas, procedimientos y actuaciones a través de los canales apropiados con los que cuentan entidades y organizaciones. Si se agotan estos canales sin encontrar los remedios necesarios habrá que recurrir a instancias más altas o a la más amplia comunidad de interés.

3.4.4 Garantizar eficiencia y eficacia para con el cliente o usuarios y con la comunidad, por medio de revisiones periódicas del proceso a través del cual se proporcionan los servicios.
